POUNDING GERMAN LINES IN WOEVRE

French Are Attacking Continuously Between the Meuse and the Moselle

ENEMY'S FORCES HAVE SUFFERED HEAVILY

Captured Trenches at Eparges
Were Choked With Dead;
British Repelled Attack

Paris, April 9.—The official communication from the war office this afternoon follows: "British troops repelled a German attack during the night of April 7-8.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle fresh progress was made. At Les Eparges we gained new ground and have remodelled the trenches captured from the Germans, which were choked with bodies, so as to make the parapets face the other way, and we repelled at the close of the day two counter-attacks made by the enemy. In the Montmarquette wood all the ground we gained has been maintained despite very violent attacks yesterday.

"In the wood at Atilly we captured new trenches and repelled counter-attacks as already reported. We also secured six machine guns and two trench mortars. The enemy ceased his counter-attacks after midday.

Paris, April 9.—Veterans from the battle-seasoned army of General von Kluck are being rushed to-day to the Woëvre district, lying between the Meuse and Moselle rivers, to check a furious French drive on the left wing of the German army. Word to this effect was sent here to-day by French aerial observers.

General Joffre believes that the position of the Germans east of Verdun is critical and has ordered a series of continued assaults. There has been no let up in these attacks for two days and nights.

London, April 9.—The French movement between the Meuse and the Lorraine frontier is developing a distinct offensive, with General Joffre pushing his advance while the Germans are making fierce counter-attacks. This is the substance of the latest dispatches reaching London from the continent.

According to the analysis of the situation by the French general staff the French offensive movement of the last few days has been on three sectors. The first is on a front of fourteen miles to the east of Verdun, the actual line running southeast from a point near Etain; the second is on a front between St. Mihiel and Pont-a-Mousson, where the French are attacking south; and the third is in the north in the vicinity of Gueusville, where the French now dominate the valley of the Orne and are threatening the railroad beyond the river Orne with attack.

"The French advance is thus being pressed from three bases in three different directions. According to Paris official reports French forces on fronts many miles long have occupied new ground measuring from several hundred yards to two miles deep. That the German resistance to these advances has been stubborn is strikingly indicated by the French report that the Germans at one point of the attack left 1,000 dead on the field.

COULD NOT CATCH STEAMSHIP THESEUS

German Submarine Chased
British Vessel for 57 Miles;
Used Gun

Gibraltar, April 9.—With her decks badly damaged by shells, the British steamship Theseus arrived here to-day from England with a thrilling story of an attack by a German submarine. The Theseus encountered the diver 40 miles off the Solly Islands, the favorite location for German under-water operations, and was chased for 57 miles.

When the commander of the submarine saw that he could not overtake the Theseus, he opened fire on the merchantman with a long-range gun. Seven shells in all struck the vessel. Five of these struck the forecastle deck and another shattered the mainmast.

The Theseus is a steamship of 4,297 registered tons.

FOUGHT FOR EMPIRE.

Ottawa, April 9.—In the casualty list issued to-day only one casualty is told of, the death of a Turkish soldier who was in the Canadian ranks.

VENIZELOS RETIRES FROM PUBLIC LIFE

Athens, April 9.—As a result of the dispute between King Constantine and former Premier Venizelos, arising from his majesty's refusal to repudiate the official announcement of Premier Gounaris that the king at no time approved M. Venizelos' proposal that Greece cede Kavala to Bulgaria, M. Venizelos announced at a meeting of his party last night that he had decided to retire entirely from public life.

NO PRIVILEGE FOR "ROLLING STONES"

Hon. C. J. Doherty Says Soldiers Without Fixed Residence Cannot Have Vote

DETAILS OF MEASURE
DISCUSSED BY MEMBERS

Ottawa, April 9.—Consideration of the details of Hon. C. J. Doherty's bill to extend the franchise to soldiers was commenced in committee in the Commons this morning. The first suggestion of a change came from Colonel H. H. McLean, Liberal member for Sunbury and Queen's, who will shortly proceed to the front. Colonel McLean suggested that there should be no age limit—that if the vote is given to soldiers all should be entitled to vote whether over or under twenty-one years of age.

Sir Robert Borden said that yesterday he had expressed himself as in favor of this change. The committee which framed the measure had not made such a recommendation. He suggested that the matter stand over for further consideration.

Hon. Frank Oliver took some exception to the clause which provides that a soldier shall vote as at the place of his enrollment as a volunteer unless the possessor of a vote in some other constituency. He thought it should be decided definitely where each vote would belong, and suggested that it might be better to have each man vote as at the place where he joined the force.

Mr. Doherty said that the effect of that would be to centralize a large portion of the voting in the bigger cities and generally unhinge the plan of representation.

"If we have to encounter a proposition like this," observed Mr. Oliver, "it is better that we should know exactly what it is."

W. M. Gordon (Welland) said that if new lists were made up this year by absent soldiers would be struck off. Then a man could elect to vote in whatever constituency he pleased or where it best might suit his commanding officer. He thought that this was one of the most vital objections to the bill.

The minister of justice, in reply, stated that the Ontario law provides that no one shall be struck off the list because of absence on active service.

Hon. Charles March said that hundreds of men with no fixed residence had enlisted in Montreal. He asked where they would vote?

Mr. Doherty said he was afraid the "rolling stones" with no fixed residence would have to forego the rights to exercise the franchise.

W. E. Knowles (Moose Jaw) made a plea for the nurses who are under shot and shell. "They are as much entitled to vote as minors," he said. "Surely we have some gallantry left, as well as a cheap desire to get votes."

Mr. Doherty replied in terms of respect to the words used by Mr. Knowles. The suggestion, however, was worthy of consideration, he said. Alphonse Verreille considered that minors engaged in the manufacture of war material were as much entitled to vote as those at the front.

William Thoburn (North Lanark) suggested the extension of the measure to include civilian voters absent from home on election day. While disposed to think Mr. Thoburn's suggestion a good one, Mr. Doherty said it would not be desirable to include it in the bill. The question of absentees voting could be taken up at another time.

PENETRATING THOUGHTS.

GARROS WON AIR-DUEL GERMAN MACHINE FELL

Furnes, Belgium, April 9.—A dramatic duel in the air in which a German aircraft was brought down by Roland G. Garros, a famous French aviator, inside the allied lines was described last night by Major Raoul Pontus, son of the former Belgian minister of war, who witnessed the combat. The German at first succeeded in rising above Garros' machine, but the latter by a clever twist escaped and then flew atop the German.

"From this moment the German's position became critical," said Major Pontus. "For Garros overtook him rapidly. Presently the crackling of a quick-firer showed that the Frenchman judged himself sufficiently near to take the offensive. Could the German escape? It seemed difficult, for Garros shot forward in great bounds, getting nearer and nearer, but the German observer used his carbine freely and it seemed that a bullet might strike the Frenchman."

Suddenly a long jet of white smoke gushed from the German machine and then a flame, which in an instant enveloped the whole aeroplane. Notwithstanding the extreme peril, the pilot took to flight, but the effort to escape soon was converted into a horrifying downward plunge. The craft, a mass of flames, struck the ground a score of yards from me and a column of black smoke mingled with sheets of fire poured from the fallen machine.

"I ran to the aeroplane, which had fallen close to a ditch, and put out the fire. The aviators, horribly burned, were dead when I reached them. The gasoline tank was pierced by two bullet holes. The machine was named No. 2, Fortieth Flottilla. The fire had spared instruments and military documents in thick leather cases. This interesting booty was taken to general headquarters."

"Ninety per cent. of the farmers are free of debt," said Mr. Harrell yesterday. "With the high price of wheat assured, they will make their fortunes this year, and many will then move out to the coast. There is 40 per cent. more acreage ready for seeding to wheat this year than last year."

Being a lumberman and head of the Harrell Lumber company, Mr. Harrell primarily was interested in lumber matters when on the prairie. In his line, he said, everything pointed to more business than ever coming from the farmers. Prospects were so good that he appointed thirty agents when there.

"Before I left Vancouver three weeks ago, I was ready to sell my property here for 50 cents on the dollar. Now I want par," he declared.

RUSSIAN FORCES ARE MOVING FORWARD ON A FIFTY-MILE FRONT

In Control of All the Main Summits and Slopes of Beskids; Enemy's Resistance Has Been Weakened; Sides of Mountains Strewn With Dead and Wounded; Russians Now Making Plans for Advance Into Hungary

Petrograd, April 9.—With the Russian forces in possession of all the main summits and slopes of the Beskid mountains, army officers here assert that the Austrian operations in the Carpathians have collapsed. The Russian general staff now is considering the best approach into Hungary.

The operations centring about Meso Labores, including the important points of Bartfeld, Lupkow and Uszok, appear virtually to have ended, with the Austrians on the defensive along the whole line and perceptibly weakened.

SPECIAL COMMISSION COMING TO VICTORIA

Shells May Be Made Here Following Visit of Col. Carnegie and Associates

PARTY ARRIVED AT VANCOUVER TO-DAY

Vancouver, April 9.—With the dual object of investigating the feasibility of establishing copper and zinc refineries in this province and inquiring into the facilities for manufacturing shells and other munitions, Col. David Carnegie, representative of the British war office and ordnance advisor to the special shell committee appointed last September by the Dominion authorities, Dr. A. W. G. Wilson, chief of the metal division of the department of mines, and Dr. A. Stansfield, metallurgist of McGill university, members of a special commission, arrived in the city this morning to continue their inquiry, which has already covered the interior of the province. The party has been investigating the industrial and economic conditions in the Kootenays, visits having been paid to Nelson, Trail and other centres. Colonel Carnegie intimated that a report a few days ago that the proposed refinery would be located at the coast was a little premature in view of the fact that no decision would be made until further investigations had been conducted.

In outlining the special mission of the party, Colonel Carnegie explained that the commission had been appointed at the instigation of Major-General Sam Hughes, minister of militia, with a view to assisting in the promotion of industries in the west and at the same time to serve the interests of the mother country.

"The idea of our visit," he said, "is to inquire into the possibilities for refining copper and zinc on a commercial basis. Incidental to this investigation, too, is the question of manufacturing. At the present time the larger part of this country is imported because there are no facilities. The establishment of a plant to refine copper and zinc therefore, would have a big influence on the whole industrial relations of the Dominion."

"The British war office," he continued, turning to the other phase of his mission, "is using tremendous quantities of copper and zinc for projectiles. Owing to action taken by General Hughes soon after the war started, a large part of the munitions is being manufactured in Canada. Already 200,000 eighteen-pounder shells have been supplied by Canadian factories."

Colonel Carnegie and his associates will confer with representatives of the Board of Trade and Manufacturers' Association. It is understood that, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made, orders will be placed for the manufacture of munitions of war here. The party will proceed to Victoria tomorrow. Colonel Carnegie, Dr. Wilson and Dr. Stansfield are registered at the Hotel Vancouver.

WARMLY RECEIVED IN BUCHAREST AND ROME

Rome, April 9.—General Paul Pau, of the French army, who has stopped here on his way to Paris after a trip to Russia and the Balkans, has been besieged by interviewers. He said that Bucharest and Rome, more than any other capital he had visited, had greeted him "fraternally." He refused to make any statement concerning his mission, but he reiterated his confidence in the final triumph of the allies.

The deep snow which still covers the Carpathian ridges stands in the way of a rapid advance into Hungary. Once this difficulty is overcome and the Russians reach the southern slopes where signs of spring are beginning to appear, the most serious obstacles to a further advance will be the artificial defences which it is assumed have been erected.

The country between the San and Labore rivers is considered to provide the best route.

The Russian staff is of the opinion that the Germans already have transferred all available troops from other fronts to defend this region and that therefore they will be unable to offer any more formidable opposition than heretofore.

On the other hand, it is expected that the German answer to the Russian offensive will be the development of a new movement in Poland, starting from Thorn or Cracow. But the invasion of Hungary is regarded in Petrograd as a foregone conclusion unless the Germans are able to transfer a formidable force of first line troops to stiffen the Austrian armies. In view of these conditions talk of a separate peace for Austria-Hungary has been revived.

Such a possibility is discussed widely in the Russian press and in diplomatic circles. It is based largely on the reported attempt of Emperor Francis Joseph to confer the influence of the pope in this direction. From the first it has been maintained here that the only terms Russia would consider would be the unconditional concession of all Slavic demands.

EXPECTED DISASTER TO OVERTAKE CRAFT

Two Days Before Submarine
Was Lost Off Honolulu
Lieut. Ede Told of Fears

Los Angeles, April 9.—"I expect the whole thing to go up in smoke any time," said Lieut. Alfred Ede, of the U. S. submarine F-4, in a letter written to his brother here with reference to his vessel just two days before it was lost in deep water off Honolulu harbor. The brother, Allison Ede, a city employee, gave out to-day a portion of the letter which he received only a day or two ago.

Because of the death of Lieut. Ede, who was lost with the submarine and its crew, and because of the probability of a rigid government inquiry, Mr. Ede was reluctant to disclose anything concerning the contents of the letter, which was dated March 23. Eventually, however, he consented to make public an excerpt reading as follows:

"I just came back from Pearl Harbor, where we were for ten days, having a motor installed. Previous to that we had a blowout. Take a little thing like that down fifty feet and no bottom below and water trickling in—I expect the whole thing to go up in smoke any time."

Mr. Ede said this was a faithful copy of that portion of the letter referring to the condition of the F-4 before the submarine was ordered out on the fatal diving trip off Honolulu. The reference to water trickling in Mr. Ede took to mean that the vessel was in no condition to resist the high water pressure below the surface.

FOR FALSE PRETENCES.

London, April 9.—Ernest Sydney Bowden Smart, formerly a Canadian officer, who said he came with the contingent in October, was getting along splendidly till drink overtook him. He was sentenced to six months at Birmingham for false pretences. The prisoner is stated to have held splendid appointments in Canada.

RUSSIANS HAVE MADE IMPORTANT GAINS

Have Advanced at Several Points on Front in Carpathians

Petrograd, April 9.—The war office issued the following official communication last night:

"In the Carpathians our troops are progressing in the valley of the Onava on April 4 we dislodged the Austrians from the sector of Stropko-Pucacas.

"In the direction of Meso Laborca the Austro-Germans, having received reinforcements, attempted to develop an offensive, but our troops, after having occupied the front of Czablaocz-Szako, repulsed all their attacks and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

"In the region north of the railway at Ugiok and Bereza, our troops succeeded in crossing the principal chain of the Carpathians, thereby attaining important tactical results on the heights south and north of Wolasta.

"In the other portions of the front there has been no important change."

An official communication concerning the fighting in the Caucasus said: "On April 6 our troops threw back the Turks along the whole line between Oili and Artvin."

Vienna, April 9.—The war office issued the following statement yesterday:

"Obstinate fighting in the sector of the East Beskid mountains, along the boundary between Hungary and Galicia, which has lasted for several weeks, reached its climax at Easter."

"Continuous Russian attacks, especially on both sides of the Laborca valley, where the enemy was reinforced by a majority of the troops which had besieged Przemyśl, were repulsed with enormous losses to the enemy. Counter-attacks, German and Austrian troops captured on the heights to the west and east of the valley several strong Russian positions."

"Through the fighting at this point has not yet been determined, our success in the Easter battle, in which some 10,000 unwounded prisoners were captured, is indisputable."

"In some parts of the wooded districts east of the Laborca valley, however, fighting is progressing."

"In Southeast Galicia there have been artillery combats at some places. In West Galicia and Russian Poland it is comparatively quiet."

MESSAGE DID NOT ANSWER QUESTION

Telegram From Ordnance Officer at Winnipeg to Boot Committee Was Brief

Ottawa, April 9.—Parliament's special committee investigating military boots sent a telegram to the senior ordnance officer at Winnipeg, instructing him to forward immediately by wire detailed information as to whose recommendation was responsible for the giving of the contracts for 3,798 pairs of boots to jobbers in October and November last. The reply received by the committee was as follows:

"Boots referred to in your telegram were purchased from samples submitted."

"Before we go into conference," stated Hon. Charles Murphy, "I would suggest that some formal protest be entered against the senior ordnance officer at Winnipeg trifling with this committee. I think the committee should see that this individual is properly disciplined."

Chairman Middlebro thought some action was justified. "His telegram is no answer at all," he commented.

E. M. Macdonald suggested that the secretary be instructed to send the officer a wire "in imperative terms."

F. B. McCurdy concurred. He thought the message should be made sufficient by strong to convince the officer that he could not trifle with the committee.

"We might instruct him to report immediately and in detail," suggested Sir James Aikins.

The committee finally decided to deal with the matter when considering its report. It is probable the matter will be submitted to parliament for action in the house.

The last public act of the committee was the acceptance of the report of John A. Hoar and Magloire Cote, the two experts appointed to examine the boots returned as condemned by the military boards in various parts of the country. The experts testified that they had examined 348 single boots and 360 pairs of these 35 were not worth repairing, 1,448 were repairable and 71 were found not originally equal to sample.

The experts swore that as far as possible they had dissected one boot from each manufacturer. They probably had opened every 25th boot examined. The 71 found not originally up to standard were manufactured as follows: Tetrault company, Montreal, 22; Cook Fitzgerald, London, Ont., 2; Murray, London, 20; Amherst company, Amherst, N. S., 2; Gauthier company, Quebec, 2; Ames-Holden company, Montreal, 2; King Shee company, Toronto, 6; Wright company, St. Thomas, 2; Western company, Berlin, 5; unidentified, 2.

In none of the boots dissected had they found paper or fraudulent material in the sole. One, however, had a paper or pulp heel, and approximately eight others had heels of "light spongy stuff." In certain cases the sole leather was of "very poor quality."

The last act of the committee was to have the sample military boot dissected by the two experts in the committee room. They found it to be a good boot in every respect.

H. W. Brown, director of contracts, was recalled to produce the correspondence upon which Charles E. Slater was placed on the patronage list in March, 1913. This was a letter marked private from Slater to Major-General Hughes, making application to be placed on the list. The minister's secretary had endorsed it, and over the minister's office stamp had been written "Not to be made official" consequently the letter was not formally chronicled. Slater was placed on the patronage list on March 12, 1913.

At Netherby-Croft, where Slater and his family were residing, Slater was reported seriously ill in the casualty list issued by the militia department last night.

London, April 9.—Another long list of Canadians wounded is as follows: At Netherby-Croft, where Slater and his family were residing, Slater was reported seriously ill in the casualty list issued by the militia department last night.

London, April 9.—Another long list of casualties in the ranks of non-commissioned officers and men as a result of the fierce conflict which raged around Neuve Chapelle was given out here last night. It included nearly 700 killed in action, 20 who died of wounds, and almost 800 wounded. The regiments most prominently in this roll of honor are the Devonshires, Leicestershires, Royal Irish, Black Watch, Territorials, and the Highland Light Infantry.

The casualties among British officers also was posted: Killed—Myers, Major, London Territorials; Nash, Lieut. J., East Surrey regiment.

Wounded—Cawston, Lieut., London Territorials; Clifford, Lieut., Royal Engineers; Hall, Lieut., Coldstream Guards.

DETAILS ARE BEING CONSIDERED TO DAY

Soldiers' Vote Bill Caused Spirited Debate Last Night

Ottawa, April 9.—Hon. C. J. Doherty's bill by which it is proposed to extend the franchise to Canadian soldiers, received a second reading at midnight, after a spirited debate in the House of Commons. While the parties apparently were agreed that as a matter of principle the soldiers should have a vote, they utterly failed to agree as to the practicability of taking the vote in the trenches.

Sir Robert Borden, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. Arthur Meighen, and other Conservatives were certain that the vote could be taken, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. William Pugsley, and other Liberals were equally sure that the details of the measure were impracticable, and questioned whether the officers at the front could be depended upon to take the vote honestly.

Hon. Frank Oliver declared that the bill constituted a deliberate attempt on the part of the government to steal an election.

Sir Robert Borden interrupted Mr. Oliver in the course of his speech to state that the matter of an election had not been decided upon and would be settled on its merits. He asserted that the opposition, by its attitude in the committee and in the house, had done much to impair that unity of spirit which was desirable.

Hon. Frank Oliver retorted with some heat that the opposition had been doing its duty to the country, unless the prime minister assumed that he had been elected as the leader of Canada.

He asserted that a government which could not be trusted to buy boots and horses for the soldiers could not be trusted to count their votes.

Colonel H. H. McLean (Liberal) approved the principle of the bill, but reserved his opinion as to the details pending the decision in committee.

Dr. Michael Clark emphasized the point that Lord Kitchener had not yet been consulted. He quoted Lord Kitchener's statement that "as a soldier, he had no politics." He believed that this would be his attitude towards this proposal.

Hon. Arthur Meighen did not think Lord Kitchener would take this view. He had allowed a vote of New Zealand soldiers to be taken, and would not refuse a similar request on behalf of those of Canada.

Other speakers included R. B. Bennett, of Calgary; E. M. Macdonald, of Pictou; F. Kay, of Missisquoi; W. H. Bennett, East Simcoe; and W. S. Logie, of Northumberland, N. B.

The details of the bill are being considered to-day.

LAND UNDER CROP GREATLY INCREASED

He went to Regina first, and then took train south to Arcois, Estevan and through into Manitoba to Pearson. Then he retraced his steps and went north to Saskatoon, Rosthern, Colony, Wainwright, Edmonton and south to Calgary. By visiting farmers, bankers and business men in the small towns he obtained information first-hand as to the state of affairs in the country.

It seemed hard to grasp the fact, said Mr. Harrell, that only about two per cent. of the cultivated land in the three provinces was in crop. With a 270,000,000-bushel crop last year and 24 per cent. of the land awaiting cultivation, it was a most wonderful country.

"After ten or twelve years of working under the burden of mortgages and liens, the farmers are at last coming into their own. Their crops netted them at least $1 a bushel last year and recently the price has been much higher. Many of the farmers, too, held their wheat, if they had facilities, expecting that $2 wheat would arrive, but many are now selling, realizing that wheat is about as high as it will go. That price, however, has put most of them out of debt."

Bankers had told him that they could point to farmers without number to whom they would lend $1,000 or $2,000 on their personal note.

"It is all nonsense about the banks holding the country by the throat," said Mr. Harrell. "The banks of this country are the best friends it has today."

In these ten or twelve years of hardship, he added, the farmers had little time or money for building fine houses or barns. Except in the older districts, the barns and shacks were of the rudest description. That all meant that the farmers would need lumber this fall. With their crop assured and the price still high, they would then send in their orders.

"It was not correct that the crop was a failure or even poor on the prairies last year," he added. "In Southern Manitoba it ranged from 20 to 28 bushels to the acre. South of the main line in Saskatchewan, there was no crop in the dry belt, but over the rest of the province the crop was first-class and the grade high."

"This year there will be little doubt of a good crop. With summer fallow and newly broken land, the acreage under crop will increase 40 per cent. The farmers are using every effort to put all the land in wheat possible. Weather conditions when he left indicated that there was nothing wanting in that line."

"It needs only a visit to the general stores and the banks in the small towns on the prairie to get a touch of the optimism of the country. On Saturday nights the farmers are there buying their supplies and to all appearances there is no indication of hard times. The bankers are ready with money to finance farmers this year and are already helping them to buy seed grain for the coming crop. Only in the larger cities of Edmonton, Calgary, Regina and Saskatoon is business quiet in comparison with former times.

"The people of the prairies are counting on making their fortunes this year and then coming to the coast to make their homes. They look to this province as the place to come to settle down and spend their money."

"In the meantime the lumber industry and every other line of business at the coast will share in the prosperity from the high price of wheat and the heavy crop this year. With the Panama canal opened, shippers of wheat from the prairies expect all grain west of Regina to come this way. This will be the case at any rate when the government elevator is built. Naturally when the wheat is marketed here the farmer will spend his money here."

COMING TO B. C.

Seattle, April 9.—Count de la Strange, a captain in the French army and accredited representative of the French government, who has been making a tour of the west buying American horses for war use, is in the city. Thus far Count de la Strange has secured about 15,000 head of stock.

After a short stay in Seattle and vicinity Count de la Strange will go to British Columbia to look over the horses of that section.

SELF-GOVERNMENT FOR ALL TOWNS IN POLAND

Petrograd, April 9.—A law just promulgated gives local municipal self-government to all towns in Poland, a substantial earnest of the promised emancipation. The municipal autonomy now granted to Poland is equivalent to that enjoyed by Russian towns. Particular care has been taken to give the Jewish population of Poland, which is larger than in any other part of the world, some degree of representation.

The new law is welcomed alike by Russian and Polish organs of public opinion.

HAVE HELD GAINS AND WON NEW GROUND

French Official Report on Operations Between the Meuse and the Moselle

Paris, April 9.—The following official statement regarding the progress of the campaign was issued by the French war office last night:

"Despite the continued bad weather, fresh successes were won yesterday and to-day between the Meuse and the Moselle. At Les Eparges a night attack enabled us to make a step in advance, and we have maintained our progress notwithstanding three violent counter-attacks. We have already counted on the field more than a thousand dead Germans."

"Further to the south, near Lamorville, in a spirited infantry action, we wiped out a German company and took prisoners the ten survivors."

"In the ally wood we carried additional trenches and repulsed two counter-attacks. In the forest of Montmaré, north of Filirey, we gained a footing in the enemy's defence works and held our ground there in spite of the efforts the enemy made to regain the position."

"To the northeast of this wood a cable of a captive balloon was severed by one of our shells. The balloon drifted across our line toward the southeast."

"To sum up, the offensive reconnaissances and attacks which we have carried out since April 4 between the Meuse and the Moselle have given the following results:

"First—On the northeast and east fronts of Verdun we have gained on a front of 30 kilometres (about 12 1/2 miles) from one to three kilometres, occupied the heights which dominate the course of the Orne river, and carried the villages of Gussainville and Fromezey."

"Second—On the heights of the Meuse, at Les Eparges, we have carried almost the whole of the strong position held by the enemy on the plateau which commands Combrès, and we retain the ground captured in the face of numerous and very violent counter-attacks."

"Third—Further to the south, near St. Mihiel, we have captured the entire southwestern portion of the ally wood, where the Germans were strongly established. This they have been unable to retake, despite repeated counter-attacks."

"Fourth—In the Southern Woëvre, between the forest of Montmaré and the forest of Le Pretre, we have gained on a front of seven to eight kilometres, a distance of three kilometres (nearly two miles), and have taken from the enemy the villages of Fey-en-Haye and Rémilly."

"At all these points the Germans suffered heavy losses, as can be established from the number of bodies found at Les Eparges."

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD CALLS FOR A CHANGE

Protests Against the Barring of Ministers From Public Office;
Next Meeting Here.

Vancouver, April 9.—The British Columbia Synod of the Presbyterian church at its session in St. John's church yesterday afternoon, in the form of a motion, referred to the disqualification of ministers from holding public offices as "class legislation of an invidious character."

The synod is to take steps to urge the provincial government to take such measures as are necessary to have such disabilities removed.

The following is the resolution, which was moved by Rev. F. W. Kerr, of New Westminster, and seconded by Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon: "That in view of the fact that according to the statutes of British Columbia no minister is permitted to be an elected representative of the people on school boards, municipal councils or in the legislature; and in view of the fact that this constitutes class legislation of an invidious character; and in view of the fact that in some communities the minister may be regarded as the most desirable man for such position, and if so there should be no legal barrier to frustrate that desire; and in view of the fact that throughout the province there exists a widespread opinion among all Christian denominations that such limitations constitute a most offensive disability and a deprivation of civil rights;

"Therefore this synod respectfully urges the government of the province of British Columbia to take such steps as are necessary to have such disabilities removed."

Next year the synod will meet in Victoria.

GERMANY STATES SHE IS WILLING TO PAY

Note Sent to United States Regarding Sinking of William P. Frye

Washington, April 9.—Germany's intention to compensate the owners of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk on the high seas with her cargo of wheat by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was formally communicated to the United States government yesterday. Ambassador Gerard cabled a note handed him by the Berlin foreign office in reply to the recent American communication submitting a claim for an indemnity of $228,059 on behalf of the Frye's owners.

The German foreign office upholds, without qualifications, the legality under international law of the raiders' action in sinking the Frye, and bases the liability of the German government to pay indemnity solely upon the old Prussian-American treaties of 1799 and 1828, which provide that contraband belonging to the subjects or citizens of either party cannot be confiscated by the other and may be detained or used in consideration of payment of full value.

In view of this stipulation, the note says, the American owners must be compensated for their loss. It is pointed out, however, that the case of necessity must go into a prize court, in order that questions of ownership, cargo, destination, etc., may be established formally.

The German position is that the Frye's cargo of wheat was contraband because it was consigned "for orders" to Queenstown, which is declared to be a fortified port of Great Britain. No notice is taken of the fact that since the wheat was sold en route to British citizens, the United States filed a claim for the vessel owners only, this being left for development in the prize court.

The German note was dated April 4, one day after Ambassador Gerard presented the request for indemnity.

ATTEMPTED TO KILL SULTAN OF EGYPT

London, April 9.—An attempt was made at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon to assassinate the Sultan of Egypt, Hussein Kamel, according to a Reuter dispatch from Cairo.

As the sultan was leaving Abdin palace a native fired a shot at him. This went wide, and the native immediately was seized.

The sultan paid his intended visit to various officials, and a crowd assembled around the palace and gave him an ovation when he returned. His assistant made a statement, describing himself as a native Egyptian, 25 years old and a merchant hailing from Mansurah. He was perfectly composed.

FRENCH TROOPS ARE READY FOR ATTACK

Forces Which Will Aid at Dardanelles Are Now in Egypt

Paris, April 9.—French troops from Africa are ready to assist the allied fleets and British expeditionary forces against Turkey. The following official statement was issued by the war office last night:

"The expeditionary corps to the Orient, which was placed under command of General A. G. L. d'Amade, was concentrated at Bleria (a fortified seaport of Tunisia, Africa), to perfect its organization and hasten the voyage to the Levant under the best of conditions. It has been ready since March 15 to aid the allied fleets and British expeditionary corps."

"In waiting, it was deemed advisable not to prolong the taking of the troops aboard the transports, and for this reason the hospitality of Egypt was accepted. The French forces have been debarked at Alexandria, and are installed at Ramleh, where they are resting and perfecting their organization and cohesion. They are ready to proceed without delay to any point necessary."

London, April 9.—The Daily Telegraph's Athens correspondent says he learns from Dedagatch that several transports of the allies, escorted by warships, were distinctly visible on Wednesday morning in splendid weather off Enos, and that it was supposed troops were being disembarked along the Turkish coast.

HOLLAND AND THE HUNS.

While reports of hostilities between Holland and German troops on the Dutch border probably are incorrect, such a development is to be expected. Whatever part of Belgium she may find it expedient to surrender for military purposes Germany intends to retain Antwerp at all hazards. But Antwerp is useless from the naval and military standpoint if its approach continues to be through Dutch waters, and it is a foregone conclusion that sooner or later the Germans will make a desperate effort to gain possession of the strip of territory south of the main Scheldt and now the northern boundary of Belgium. This strip is, roughly, thirty-five miles east and west, averaging twelve miles in width. Once captured it could be defended easily, for it is relatively isolated from Holland proper.

Of course an attack upon Holland territory by Germany would enlarge the number of her enemies and would not be attempted as long as it was deemed essential to send troops to reinforce the Austrians in the Carpathians. But if a separate peace were negotiated between Hungary, Russia and Serbia, leaving Germany with only her own border to defend against Russia while she shortened her front in the west by withdrawing from France and Flanders, she might feel confident that she could stand off her present foes with Holland thrown in until the war came to an end. Holland unaided would not attempt an invasion of Germany, but would content herself with defending her own soil.

But there is one insuperable obstacle to this scheme, which undoubtedly has been under consideration at German headquarters. That obstacle is Great Britain. She never will consent to peace while a square inch of Belgian territory remains in German possession, and in this determination she will be joined by France, even if Germany offers to surrender Alsace to the republic. Nor would Russia be satisfied with any terms which did not establish in its whole humiliating entirety the utter failure of the German onslaught upon the peace of the world. The allies will impose the terms and the Huns must swallow them or starve. He made the war and must abide by the consequences.

The Germans have been strengthening their troops along the Holland-Belgium frontier, and this quite properly is construed by Amsterdam as a menace to their country. Certainly nobody dreams that Holland would attack Germany. Coincidentally with these preparations on land German submarines and Zeppelins have begun to harass Holland's commerce. Berlin's attitude towards the little kingdom for months has been one of undisguised contempt, and we need not be surprised any day to learn of some particularly gross outrage upon the interests of the smaller country by the Prussian bully, designed to give the Huns an excuse to grab the strip on the south side of the Scheldt.

A NOTE FROM THE KAISER.

We were mistaken in assuming from the long silence of the Kaiser that he had lost confidence in the Almighty and dissolved the partnership that was to dominate the world. The chief agent of the policy of "frightfulness" has been heard from again, and in the old familiar strain, instructing his minister of war to lay suitable wreaths upon the grave of Bismarck, whom the New York Sun describes as "that supreme flower of German art." The Kaiser gave utterance to this "characteristic expression of piety, divine and filial." "I am firmly confident that the Almighty is against all enemies now threatening the fatherland and that He will continue to protect the life and aim of the Great Kaiser and his loyal servant." The note is interesting. It indicates that the chief of the great war tribe, possibly is not so confident as in the days when his bravos were achieving glorious victories over the helpless Belgians and the unprepared French. His old claim was that of a partnership with the supreme head of the universe. He has not lost faith, but faith seems to be wavering. At least that is the meaning we extract from his deliverance. But then we are not neutral and unbiassed. The Sun is, and here is its comment:

"Wilhelm II. is always firmly confident. His firm confidence in his unlimited partnership with God is singularly gratifying just at present. The Almighty in a joint undertaking to sink women and non-combatant men, not only technical enemies of the Fatherland but Americans who happen to be aboard, is a conception which even the black irony of Swift could not have done justice to. We should love to hear some worthy Hofprediger dilate on the text: 'The waters covered their enemies.'"

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Admiral Uru, the distinguished Japanese naval officer who is visiting the city, is a veteran of the conflict eleven years ago, which was marked by one of the most decisive sea campaigns in the annals of war.

When the war with Russia was begun the Japanese navy was inferior to that of the enemy in number of ships and tonnage, but by striking first and striking hard Japan removed the margin, established a moral ascendancy and placed the ultimate decision beyond doubt.

The possibilities of naval warfare have been greatly enlarged since Admiral Uru and his gallant compatriots won their signal victories. The development of the submarine and aerial craft has altered the whole theory of sea strategy in coastal waters at any rate. The blockade which was so perfectly maintained off Port Arthur cannot be applied to Wilhelmshaven or Kiel, but on the high seas the issue will continue to be decided by big gun fire as it was decided in the struggle in which Admiral Uru played so distinguished a part.

WHAT WAS IN IT?

Sir Robert Borden yesterday admitted that there had been correspondence between the government and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association regarding the purchase of war supplies through middlemen, but said the correspondence was confidential and would not be tabled unless the association agreed to it.

The people of Canada, who are paying for these supplies ought to know what that correspondence contains, whether it suits the Canadian Manufacturers' Association or not. They are entitled to know whether the association exercised its influence to bring about an arrangement by which super-profits were exacted by favored intermediaries or whether it admonished the authorities to transact their business directly with the contractors. If the Canadian Manufacturers' Association wished to be consistent it must have adopted the latter course, for we recall that in 1911 that organization was so patriotic that it expended hundreds of thousands of dollars to avert the calamity of increased trade with the United States, and therefore it ought to be on record as opposed to all questionable practices in connection with supplies for a great war upon which the existence of the empire may depend.

WHO WAS IT?

It would be of interest to know definitely which particular minister or ministers at Ottawa are charged with the supervision of the central distribution agency for government campaign literature which has just issued a slanderous leaflet reflecting upon the loyalty of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Was it the element which declared on the hustings that it had been necessary "to shoot holes in the English flag to breathe the air of liberty" and through whose influence Armand Lavergne, who recently attacked Great Britain in connection with the war, was made a lieutenant-colonel in the militia? Was it those loyalists of Montreal who paid the campaign expenses of the Bourassa candidates in 1911?

If it was none of these, perhaps it was one or more of the patriots who have been instrumental in assisting German submarines in restricting British trade by increasing the duty against British goods imported into Canada by five per cent. Or it might have been those ministers whose departments notified contractors that they must "see" their friends, the middlemen, before they could sell war supplies to the government.

The assertion in the leaflet, to which Sir Wilfrid referred, that he had not urged French-Canadians to enlist was so patently false that it was scarcely necessary for him to contradict it. Every Conservative paper of prominence in Canada, as well as Liberal journals, besides the metropolitan newspapers of the United Kingdom, prominently reproduced the eloquent speeches delivered by him at Sohier

Park in Montreal and elsewhere immediately after the war opened, in which he sounded a clarion call to arms. An attack on the loyalty of the father of the British race, the Canadian literature promulgated in the interests of a government which has just killed that great imperial work of constructive statesmanship is quite Prussian in its conception.

KILLED IT.

The Senate has killed the bill passed by the House of Commons amending the Supreme Court Act in order that there might be appeals in controverted provincial election actions to the Supreme Court of Canada.

The rejection of this bill was highly desirable, for it was intended to affect a couple of contested cases in Manitoba arising out of the recent provincial election in that province. There is enough difficulty in connection with the hearing of controverted election petitions without affording further opportunities for complications.

A VITAL STRUGGLE.

It is a far cry to the Carpathians, yet the whole world is vitally concerned in the struggle which is now raging between the Russian and Austro-German armies for the possession of the plains of Hungary. If Russia wins, a formidable factor will be eliminated from the war; the end of which will be in sight. If Russia loses the main conflict will be prolonged until one side or the other succumbs through exhaustion.

The Berlin Overseas News Agency, whose chief medium of circulation on this continent is the press published in centres which have a large proportion of Germans among their population, is endeavoring to create the impression that the Teutonic prospects on the Eastern front are very rosy. Nevertheless Germany and Austria are sending every available man to the Carpathians, and it is to prevent them from detaching additional troops from the west that Joffre now is conducting a vigorous offensive in the Woivre district in France.

According to Viennese admissions, of the quartette of passes between Galicia and Hungary, starting with Dukla or Sanok, and extending eastward, Russia commands all but Uzok, and her armies are pressing down the southern slope along the valley of the Labore. A glance at the map shows what this movement will mean if it is successfully continued, and in consideration of the progress made by the invaders it is not improbable that Austria is thinking seriously in the direction of peace.

The war began on the eastern front, and it may be on the eastern front that it will end. Germany's fatal error was her contempt for the military strength and staying power of Russia, a contempt which many other ill-informed people who are not Germans, shared with her. It is too late for her to remedy her error, for no matter how many men she may send to assist her hard-pressed ally the enemy will outnumber them two to one.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser admits that there has been a great deal that is indefensible in connection with the distribution of contracts for militia supplies, but weakly and dishonestly hints that some of the men who profited at the expense of the country are Liberals. Even if true, what has that to do with the case? Is it not the duty of the ministers to protect the interests of the country against the crookedness of spoilsmen, whether Tory or Grit? Responsibility cannot be evaded upon any such contemptible plea. We have read carefully the accounts of the proceedings before the Public Accounts Committee, and the evidence of all the contractors was to the effect that they were anxious to do business directly with the government, but the members of the government when approached invariably hinted to inquirers that they had better see certain persons who had no official status. Will the News-Advertiser also say that the persons or concerns in Vancouver and Victoria which secured contracts for militia supplies were Liberals? If the Public Accounts Committee were to extend its investigations to the coast it might bring out something of considerable public interest.

Looting the treasury in war time is the favorite and remunerative occupation of the "patriots" at Ottawa. Which is bad enough, but they only aggravate their unutterable meanness and add hypocrisy to it by waving the flag, singing God Save the King and charging with disloyalty the men who expose their felony.

COLD BLOODED MURDER.

This is not war as the civilized world knows it. It is assassination. Officers and crews committing such crimes forfeit their right to be treated according to the laws of war. If captured they should be tried for murder. What they did is not covered in any way by the plea of accidental or of military necessity. They took innocent lives in cold blood. We hope that the brutes who sank the Falaba and the Aquila will be caught and hanged, not alone as a penalty for their crimes, but as a vindication of the law of nations which they and their government have pervertedly outraged.

RUSSIAN FORCES ARE MOVING FORWARD ON FIFTY-MILE FRONT

Petrograd, April 9.—More than 1,000,000 men are gripped to-day in a gigantic battle raging between Austro-Germans and Russians about the Uzok pass in the Carpathian mountains, in the district lying immediately south and west of the fortress of Przemysl, which recently capitulated. Advances received here from Warsaw indicate that the battle is rapidly reaching a decisive stage, with the Slav forces advancing over a fifty-mile front from the Tople river to the Uzok pass.

The covered slopes of the Carpathians, the dispatches say, are black with the bodies of the dead and wounded men, and the fighting is characterized as the bloodiest of the war.

The operations in Poland have been relegated to a position of secondary importance, as both the Russians and the Teutons are withdrawing every available man from the Polish arena to strengthen their forces in the Carpathians.

The Russians are making desperate efforts to pour their thousands of troops through the two principal passes south and west of Przemysl, with the object of over-running the level plains of Hungary, and to oppose this colossal operation of Grand Duke Nicholas the Austrians and Germans are bringing all their forces into play that it is possible for them to utilize.

All available railroads are engaged to their capacity in the transportation of troops and munitions of war to the Hungarian-Galician divide at the ridge of the Carpathians.

Russian officials never have conceived the possibility of such concessions unless a decisive victory should be won by the Slav nations now at war.

On the subject of a separate peace for Austria-Hungary, the Bourse Gazette says:

"In the dual monarchy the roles have changed. At the outset the Hungarians were for war and for solidarity with Germany. Since the fall of Przemysl they have been talking loudly of a separate peace.

"The Austrian army, on the contrary, insists on the war being continued, since Austrians realize that Austria in any event will have to pay the price.

Emperor Joseph has appealed to the pope for aid in securing peace. When this is discovered by the Austrian party a demand will be made that a second note be sent annulling the first. Austrian politicians showed Emperor Francis Joseph that the Hungarian desire for peace was brought about by Germany's failure to afford protection to Hungary. Seeing disaster approaching, the agitators seek to secure safety by strengthening Hungary in the dual monarchy.

"Among diplomats here it has become the theme of conversation. From good sources it is known that the Serbians are in full accord with Russia. In British political circles the idea has been received with sympathy but with the understanding that the demands of Russia and the Slav world must be fully satisfied.

"Russia, France and Great Britain are united in this conception of peace possibilities."

LATEST CASUALTY LIST GIVES 336 AS KILLED

London, April 9.—Another extended list of casualties totalling 1,108 names was issued by the British war office to-day, and it emphasizes the fierceness of the battle of Neuve Chapelle in France last month. The killed in this latest list number 336.

The British casualty list issued to-day, when added to those issued in the previous two days, shows that a total of 4,058 men were either killed, wounded or missing, and to a large extent these casualties are attributed to the battle of Neuve Chapelle. Out of the total of 4,058 for the three days, 1,331 men were killed.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

Los Angeles, April 9.—Matthew A. Schmidt and David Caplan, alleged accomplices of the McNamara brothers, pleaded not guilty yesterday to an indictment charging them with the murder of Chas. Hagerty, one of a score of men killed when the Los Angeles Times building was blown up in October, 1910.

DEAD IN CALIFORNIA.

DAVID SPENCER, LIMITED

SOLILOQUIES OF THE DEVIL.

I pined a galley here, the other day,
Before the blooming paper went to press;
I picked the meanest thing up right away,
And put it back together just by guess.
The make-up man he chuckled it in the form;
The thing went through—Oh, golly, what a storm!

"John Smith will sell at 20 Prospect street.
At the bride's home, on Wednesday at high noon,
An only daughter, beautiful and sweet—
With spotted feet, and coming two next June."
So help me, that's the way the darn thing read.
I saw it, and I nearly fell down dead.

That ain't the worst. The thing went on to say:
"Mike Dolan died last night at half-past eight;
No fire insurance carried, so they say;
Loss total, but the value was not great.
You'd ought to hear the widow tear and rave—
It makes me sick the way some skirts behave!"

"A son was born to Dr. Richard Vose,
A glossy black, and weight a thousand flat;
His mother was by Danby, out of Rose—
With gloves to match, and wore a picture hat."
The foreman threw three fits and clawed the air;
For once he got so mad he couldn't swear.

"The Park House burned to ashes Tuesday night.
The cause, they say, was softening of the brain;
The noble fireman made a gallant fight
In satin duchess, made with fishtail train."
Ain't that the everlasting limit? Gee!
The way the whole darn bunch jumped on to me!

The boss he had me on the carpet, too,
Gee! He can dress a feller to the ground!
I sneaked his office feelin' mighty blue.
When all to once I heard a funny sound.
The boss was all alone—I'd give my hat
To know just what that guy was laughin' at!

GOVERNMENT MUST PROTEST

New York Times.
The government at Washington has been criticized for its failure to protest against repeated violations of the laws and usages of war. We made no protest against the outrage upon neutral Belgium, none when Germany began the planting of mines in the open sea. In view of our profession of strict neutrality, there may have been some warrant for silence. Out of the public indignation aroused by these latest crimes there will certainly come a demand that our government take notice of them. It is true that the life of an American was lost when the German submarine destroyed the Falaba, our protest should be made at once.

Alderman Bell will preside. All men in the city are earnestly invited to attend.

Elks to Hold Dance.—The Elks have been holding monthly dances at their clubrooms, but owing to the small floor area, the attendance had to be limited. As so many have been eager to attend these dances, the Elks have decided to invite all their friends to the Alexandra club on Thursday, April 29. It will be the last Elks social dance of this season. Those desiring invitations or tickets can phone the club No. 656.

Made Presentation.—A very pleasant event took place at the store of Messrs. Dixie H. Ross & Co., when the employees gathered together to extend congratulations to the manager, J. D. Jay, on his marriage. A beautiful Mantel clock set was presented to Mr. Jay, who responded with a few well chosen remarks expressing his appreciation of the gift.

Life Memberships.—Fourteen have joined the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross society as life members, the youngest being but three weeks old. The addition of these names to the membership roll has considerably augmented the funds of the society. The sewing committee is busy, and has a considerable amount of work ready. Volunteers are wanted for sewing at the headquarters, Temple building, or to take home needlework.

Fifth Regiment Band.—An excellent array of artistic talent has been secured for the Fifth Regiment band concert to be given on Sunday night at the Royal Victoria theatre. Miss Betty Wilcox, of Nanaimo, the talented elocutionist, will give a recitation, and vocal solos will be given by Mrs. Jesse Longfield, soprano and H. C. German, baritone. Violin solos will be played by Jesse Longfield. The band numbers will comprise selections from "Orpheus," "The Spring Maid," "Romeo and Juliet" and the Bachelors' "Hunting Scene."

Was Known Here.—Announcement appeared in the London Times of March 17 of the death on March 15 of William Charles Siffken, aged 85, whose funeral took place from St. Mary Magdalene's English, interment at Abney Park cemetery. The deceased gentleman at one time lived in Victoria and was in business here as a coal dealer, with offices on Wharf street. Mr. Siffken was one of the trustees of the Reformed Episcopal church here, and his name appears among the signatories of the trust deed of the site under date of May 8, 1875. The other trustees' signatures being Messrs. W. J. Macdonald, A. J. Langley, Jesse Cowper, B. W. Pearce, Cootie M. Chambers, Charles Hayward, J. Douglas, Jr., D. W. Higgins, William Wilson and Cornelius Thorne.

Whistles Blew.—The motor show advertising agents would have considerably strengthened the force of the advertisement indulged in last evening had they given some of the more likely authorities some previous warning on the subject. The outbreak of whistles from brewery, soap works, and other factories about the city shortly after seven o'clock aroused the curiosity of hundreds of people who, however, were unable to find out whether the sirens signified victory for the Allies, or the abrupt demise of the German Emperor. As it was telephone operators, the fire chief, the police, and even the press were unable satisfactorily to answer the telephone calls which kept the lines buzzing with inquiries for two hours after the demonstration.

Soldiers.—All "Jinneys" and Willows cars stop at the Skene Lowe Studio, corner Yates and Douglas. Headquarters for Sepias.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Work on the addition to the new police cells is progressing rapidly, and Superintendent Sheppard will be prepared to furnish first-class accommodation for transient boarders shortly. Accommodation will also be provided for females and lunatics.

Contractor Conway will commence work as soon as possible on the uncompleted section of the telegraph line to Bonilla point. It is expected to complete it by July 1.

J. S. Buchanan, of Rugby, England, has arrived here in the interests of the Temperance Co-Operative Commonwealth on Malcolm Island, which it is expected will sustain 400 families.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

An important committee meeting of Ward III. will be held to-night at the Liberal headquarters, Cormorant street, at 8 o'clock.

Concert and Dance.—The Progressive Spiritualism society will hold their third annual concert and dance on April 13 in the large hall over the Princess theatre, Yates street.

Chapter Meeting.—The regular meeting of the Daisy Chain chapter, Children of the Empire, will be held at the home of Mrs. F. A. McDiarmid, 1029 Belmont avenue, on Saturday afternoon at 2.30. All members are urged to be present.

Oaklands C. E. Mission.—The Ladies' guild of the Oaklands Church of England mission held a successful sale of work on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. H. A. Collison declared the sale open. The proceeds, $50, are considered satisfactory. The apron and handkerchief stall was in charge of Mrs. Hampton and Miss Leeming. Mrs. Ashton had charge of the plants which were given by the Lansdowne nurseries, while Mrs. Baron and Mrs. Vickers had the home cookery and candy stall. Mrs. Schmidt and Mrs. Davis dispensed afternoon tea.

Held Annual Meeting.—The Christ Church cathedral branch of the W. A. to Missions will hold their annual meeting on Monday, April 12, at 3 o'clock in the cathedral schoolroom. The Ven. Archdeacon Scriven has kindly consented to give an address. The work of the past year will be reviewed, and the election of officers for the coming year will take place. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance. Tea will be served during the afternoon, and the president extends a cordial invitation to all members of the congregation and their friends.

Building Permit.—A building permit was issued to-day for a two-story and basement brick and stone building to be erected on the southwest corner of Cormorant and Quadra streets for J. Wenger according to the designs of Jesse M. Warren, the architect. The building will be occupied by the Sands Funeral Furnishings Co., Ltd. The structure will be strictly modern in every respect and will have four large stone columns on the Quadra Street front. The cost of the building will be in the neighborhood of $8,000. T. H. Brown is the contractor.

Ladies' Musical Club.—A very tempting programme has been arranged for the Ladies' Musical Club concert to take place on Tuesday, April 13, commencing at 8.30. Miss Norah Dod, a young pianist who has just been heard once before at these concerts, will be the pianist for the evening. The soloists will be Mrs. Robin Dunsmuir, Mrs. R. Baird and Messrs. Petch and Hughes. Mrs. Dunsmuir and Mr. Hughes will sing in duet, and Mrs. J. R. Green, who should receive a warm welcome, will play the violin. Soldiers stationed in the district are invited to attend as the guests of the club.

School Attendance.—The attendance in the city schools in March fell slightly from the figures of February, but show an increase of over 100 on those of twelve months ago. The total was 5,062, as against 5,097 in February and 4,948 in March, 1914. By schools the figures are: McGill, 66; high school, 561; Boys Central, 445; Girls Central, 422; George Jay, 378; North Ward, 363; Sir James Douglas, 438; Victoria West, 376; South Park, 334; Oaklands, 262; Bank, 156; Burnside, 180; Kings Road, 154; Kingston Street, 168; Beacon Hill, 146; Quadra, 151; Spring Ridge, 146; Flaggard, 74; Margaret Jenkins, 73; Fernwood, 48; Protestant Orphanage, 36; Rock Bay, 37; Pembroke, 21; Special, 16.

Delightful Lecture.—Those interested in the study of human nature will be pleased to see that W. G. Alexander who has been delighting audiences in Vancouver, is booked for a course of lectures at the First Baptist hall, where he will open with a free lecture next Monday night. The professor is so well known throughout the United States and Canada as to need no introduction. The Ottawa Journal says of him that he is better than Professor Fowler in his palmist days, while the Omaha Bee says: "We defy any dollar show to interest or entertain an audience better than Prof. Alexander. One who can draw crowded houses for weeks as the professor has done in large cities is well worth hearing and we have no doubt the hall will be crowded on Monday evening."

CHURCH ADVERTISING

One of the leading clergymen of New York has proposed that a fund of $500,000 be raised to advertise the city's churches.

The idea is receiving serious consideration. Thoughtful church people are beginning to realize that newspaper advertising is an effective help in solving the problem of empty pews. Many men and women only need the stimulus of a regular reminder to become more active.

The plan proposed for New York is one every other city can study with profit.

VICTORIA SPRING ASSIZE

Criminal Cases Will Be Taken May 3: One Local Clothing Company Incorporated.

The criminal assize for the county of Victoria will commence on May 3, and at the Nanaimo assize both civil and criminal business will be dealt with, commencing May 10, according to notice in the B. C. Gazette.

Irton Eardley, Wilnot, of Shawinigan Lake, is appointed a J. P. and Dr. Paul Ewart, of Alert Bay, is named a coroner for the province. The West Saanich Women's institute is incorporated.

The court of revision for the Saanich electoral district will be held at the residence of William Graham, Tennyson avenue, at 10 a. m. on May 11.

"1915 FOLLIES."

The most defected man in the city of Victoria to-day is he who by pure mischance missed performances of the "1915 Follies" at the Royal Victoria theatre last week. He will, however, be relieved to learn that the company is to return to the same house to-night and Saturday in an entirely new programme. The various members of this sprightly aggregation, who so quickly popularized themselves last week will be heard in new characteristic numbers, while the special attraction will be an originality called "The Follies on Trial," in which the Follies will point the finger of ridicule at themselves and be tried by Judge McBlower of the court of censorship.

THE WAY OUT.

Change of Food Brought Success and Happiness.

An ambitious but delicate girl, after failing to go through school on account of nervousness and hysteria, found in Grape-Nuts the only thing that seemed to build her up and furnish her the peace of health.

"From infancy," she says, "I have not been strong. Being ambitious to learn at any cost I finally got to the high school but soon had to abandon my studies on account of nervous prostration and hysteria.

"My food did not agree with me, and I grew thin and despondent. I could not enjoy the simplest social affair for I suffered constantly from nervousness in spite of all sorts of medicines.

"This wretched condition continued until I became interested in the letters of those who had cases like mine and who were being helped by eating Grape-Nuts.

"I had little faith, but procured a package, and after the first dish I experienced a peculiar satisfied feeling that I had never gained from any ordinary food. I slept and rested better that night and in a few days began to grow stronger.

"I had a new feeling of peace and restfulness. In a few weeks, to my great joy, the headaches and nervousness left me and life became bright and hopeful. I resumed my studies and later taught ten months with ease—using Grape-Nuts every day. I am now the mistress of a happy home, and the old weakness has never returned."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in packages. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

The ballroom at Government House, which was beautiful with spring flowers and boughs of cherry blossom, was the scene of a delightful bridge tea last Thursday, Mrs. Barnard, with ready sympathy, placing her house at the disposal of the Women's Auxiliary of the S. P. C. A. for the occasion. Prizes were kindly given by Mrs. Doull, Mrs. Pemberton and Mrs. Shallocross, and the winning ladies were Mrs. Lemon, Mrs. Lay and Mrs. Troup. A very gratifying sum was realized from the annual ball of the Victoria Nurses' club held last evening in the Alexandra ballroom, and the proceeds will be divided among various charitable and benevolent organizations in the city for the furtherance of their work. The ballroom was decorated with a red cross picked out in electric lights, and an enormous emblem of the same nature draped one of the walls.

There were about three hundred dancers present, and the pastime was kept up with the music and dancing until some time after two o'clock this morning. Miss Thain's five-piece orchestra supplying a splendid programme of dance numbers. The entrance way to the hall was very effectively decorated with broom, and the supper-room with crimson and white carnations, the colors of the order, the number of nurses in their white uniforms with red-cross badges on their arms still further emphasizing the character of the occasion. The supper arrangements, which were entrusted to the capable management of Mrs. Jenner, were all that could be desired.

St. Barnabas' church was the scene of a very pretty Easter service on Monday evening when Jessie May Mann, youngest daughter of Mrs. Esau Tuck, of Assey, Ontario, was united in marriage to Oswald Herbert Barton, son of Mrs. Barton, of Victoria, and grandson of Rev. J. Stephenson, D. D., principal of Cambridge House Collegiate school, Stratford-on-Avon, and rector of Trinity church, Buxton. The ceremony was performed by the Venerable Archdeacon Scriven in the unavoidable absence of the bridegroom's uncle, Rev. Fred L. Stephenson, of Quamichan. The church and church were very beautifully decorated with spring flowers for the occasion, and a big congregation of the friends and relatives of the principals filled the church. The bride, wearing a very becoming gown of white charmeuse, with overtones of silk marquisette and trimmings of lace and pearls, was given away by her uncle, Thomas Parsell. She wore the conventional veil and chaplet of orange blossoms, and carried a sheaf of Easter lilies. Her bridesmaid, Miss Edith Varsell, a cousin, was in a frock of eau de Nile crepe de chine, with picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Albert Jones acted as best man. The service was fully choral, the bridal party being met at the church door by the choir boys, who preceded them up the aisle to the chancel steps, singing "The Voice that Breath'd O'er Eden." During the service appropriate music was furnished by Arthur Longfield, who presided at the organ. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. Little, Dallas avenue, where a number of the more immediate relatives of the principals gathered to wish the young couple happiness. The tables were tastefully decorated with carnations and wild lilies, asparagus ferns and streamers of green tulle. AT THE THEATRES.

CRYSTAL THEATRE.

At the Crystal theatre to-night and to-morrow matinee and evening, the management are presenting Miss Mary Pickford in a special famous player feature film, "Hearts Adrift." Miss Pickford has been seen in Victoria in many film successes, but "Hearts Adrift" is certainly the finest and most brilliant. It is at present being shown in New York by Daniel Frohman. In conjunction with this colossal attraction the usual bargain night will be held to-night, and a large quantity of goods will be given away. One ticket in every ten is a prize winner, so every patron has a good chance of winning a prize.

ROMANO THEATRE.

"Our Army and Navy," as a special feature, is the attraction given to-day. This wonderful picture of the mobilization of all the great European armies engaged in this awful war, is a powerful drawing card at this popular play house. King George V. and the Life Guards are prominently displayed. Then follows the czar of Russia, with his favorite Cossack regiment; King Alfonso and President Poincaré, of France, are also shown at a grand military display. The Italian, Portuguese and Danish armies are all pictured enabling one to form a good idea of the relative strength of these countries. The navy has been given her place in this wonderful war drama.

DOMINION THEATRE.

The Deep Purple, a world film feature now being presented at the Dominion as a week-end attraction, is of the same standard of excellence as has been maintained in the previous world film productions. The play from which the picture was taken was a famous Broadway success written by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Myer. The picturized version is equally successful, with Clara Kimball Young in the leading role, supported by a powerful cast. The musical accompaniment to the picture contains some finely rendered selections from Patience, Il Trovatore and Lucia di Lammermoor. Another Col. Hazler cartoon comedy shows the doughty colonel having the time of his life capturing wild animals in Africa. As the animals do most of the capturing, the picture is really funny.

VARIETY THEATRE.

The Famous Players Film Co. selected Henry Arthur Jones' world-renowned drama, "The Dancing Girl," as the vehicle for Florence Reed's first appearance on the screen, and it must here be recorded that the selection was not only judicious, but inspired. As presented last night at the Variety theatre this paramount five-part feature adds appreciably to the stellar honors of the popular young actress. As Drusilla, the young Quaker girl who rises to fame as a dancer in London, and who earns the hatred of her stern old father for her lax manner of living, Miss Reed portrays a character as great in its dramatic and emotional appeal as the one in which she achieved so remarkable a success in "The Yellow Ticket." She looks and dresses the part perfectly, and acts it with quiet force and quaint touches that add to the interest of the role.

GOOD MUSIC AT PANTAGES.

There are few people who can resist the attraction of a really-high class musical offering such as the Versatile Harmony Five has been offering all this week at Pantages theatre. The turn is exceedingly clever from first to last, each of the quintette showing himself to be a master of several instruments, all of which are played with sympathy and understanding, while the vocal numbers are well chosen and excellently rendered.

This musical offering is one of the best items in a big seven-act bill, one of the longest programmes ever offered at a local vaudeville theatre. The quantity has not detracted in any way from the quality of the acts, as all seven are well worth seeing. The For-get-Me-Not girls are an expensive attraction and have proved very popular. They are excellent singers and dancers. The acrobatic and contortionist turn by the Shelvey Bros. has also attracted general admiration.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

The week end offering at the Majestic theatre is typical of the splendid shows that this theatre is famous for, and those who fail to view this wonderful offering are missing a rare treat. The headliner is entitled "The Living Fear," produced in two parts by Lubin's Famous Players, and is a wonderful story magnificently depicted. It deals with a woman who lives in fear for a man who she loves and eventually marries. Two comedies which are unique among the many that are seen on the screen of the present day keep the audiences in a roar of laughter, and an educational film and a western cowboy picture rounds out this all feature bill.

Pride is not a bad thing when it only urges us to hide our own hurts, not to hurt others.—George Eliot.

Important Change In Business

In all lines of business, methods are changing, and modern efficiency is showing better ways of marketing goods.

Most everybody is familiar with the famous Nyal's Family Remedies and Toilet Requisites, and has been accustomed to seeing them in every drug store you go into. Almost every home has its little assortment of Nyal's in the cupboard.

The Company have made a far-reaching change in their plan of doing business, and in future the goods will be marketed only through selected drug store agents who are also shareholders in the Company.

This is in accord with the best business thought of the day—that with selected agents more intimately associated with the manufacturing company, better business practice will result and business be conducted more economically by eliminating as far as possible the expensive friction of ordinary business methods.

The Nyal Agency Drug Stores in Victoria will be as follows. No Drug Stores other than Nyal Agents will be allowed to handle Nyal goods.

SENT BACK TO SEATTLE

On the right of the picture is Lun Sen, crossing the sidewalk in front of the C. P. R. ticket office after landing from the Seattle steamer Wednesday. Later in the same day the Chinese visitors were ordered by the immigration authorities to return to Seattle, which they did.

READY TO PROCEED WITH AMENDMENTS

Motions Will Be Moved in Council Monday; Committee Meetings To-day

The result of the work of the committee that has been inquiring into the operation of the building and other civic by-laws, is shown in two notices of motion for which Alderman Todd is sponsor. The first is to amend the building by-law, the second to amend the electric wiring amendment by-law. Both matters have been before the committee at public and private sessions recently. Probably no alteration of the plumbing by-law will be recommended. Both motions will be taken up at the next meeting of the council on Monday. With regard to the former matter the resolution has been a little delayed by deciding what shall be the secondary fire limits, the exact delimitation requiring some consideration. There will be a report on Sooko waterworks into the same meeting.

To tie up some of the strands in the various agreements for the Johnson street bridge, and road improvements on the reserve, there was a committee meeting this afternoon. The mayor said that there had not been any development in the negotiations, but that it was necessary to expedite some matters which ought to be considered. As there is very little business for the meeting of the streets committee, it is expected that the council will be able to get down to work on the policy to be adopted for the reduction or otherwise of the meter rates for manufacturers who use a large quantity of water.

At the meeting of the streets committee, however, the principal matter is the arrangement to be enforced in the future in the employment of men on city work. The difficulties of last week appear to have been somewhat smoothed down, and probably the aldermen will favor the retention of the present scheme of taking men through the bureau, subject to some modification of the existing regulations. Every scheme which has hitherto been devised for the purpose of handling city labor has offered objections in practice, and so long as a condition of unemployment exists when it is impossible to give work to everyone who wants it, so will criticism of conditions prevail.

Considerable improvements have been effected at the Garbally road yards. The road through the property is in better condition, and extra buildings are designed to supplement the asphalt plant now in position on the edge of the Creek. The engineering department has not yet received authority from the Ottawa authorities for the construction of the wharf westward to handle material. The fencing of the yard, to prevent depredations, is one of the most urgent needs now, as much pipe, etc., has been maliciously damaged in the past through lack of protection at night.

ANIMALS IN WAR

R. S. P. C. A. Establishes Home for Soldiers' Pets; Incidents of Sagacity.

Among the many sad incidents of the war, the condition of homeless animals is one of the most pathetic. Many times stories come from the front telling of the finding of deserted animals wandering in the outskirts of burning or devastated villages. Some of the poor dumb creatures die in terror, whilst others make pathetic and sometimes successful efforts to attach themselves to new masters.

An inspector of the R. S. P. C. A. writes of finding a shivering and hungry terrier which he named "Ted" in the castle. The next day, a transformed dog, the terrier was sleeping in a blanket content to remain by the friend of his adoption.

A strange story is told, which, incredible as it sounds, has been verified in every particular. "Prince," a terrier living with his mistress in Hammermith, one day disappeared. A few weeks later the owner received a letter from her husband at the front saying that Prince had found his master in the trenches. Among the many good works carried on by the R. S. P. C. A. is the establishment of a home for animals deposited there by soldiers of the allies. They will be kept at the home, which is at Boulogne-sur-mer, free of charge until claimed by their owners.

PUBLIC MARKET

Large Crowd on Hand This Morning;
Spring Vegetables, Plants and Flowers in Great Demand.

There was a large crowd of buyers on hand when the public market opened this morning, the fine weather having attracted numbers of residents from the outskirts of the city.

Spring vegetables were in great demand, and rhubarb in particular sold readily, so that despite of the large stock which was placed in the stalls early this morning dealers were almost sold out by noon. Radishes also sold well, while lettuce, asparagus, cauliflowers, onions, and spring cabbages were taken up briskly.

Pot plants sold at a very low price, while cut flowers and spring seeds found many buyers.

The warm weather caused quite a demand for the delicious apple cider which is sold at the market.

Spring chickens early sold out, while there was no lack of purchasers for pork, beef and fish. Eggs experienced a slight advance in price and sold fairly well. Home cured bacon was another commodity which found buyers.

There is some talk of having two market days a week for the summer months, and it is probable that the stalls will be extended out of doors during the hot weather.

The rise in British railwaymen's wages will cost over $15,000,000 a year.

SOLDIERS' TALK IN A CAFE.

A signaller in a London regiment writes:

The population of this place is no longer French; it is British and male. The only females are French, but they are occupied in making cafe au lait for us. There are a few male aborigines scraping roads and helping in the heaviest kind of mud-pushing on the outskirts well away from the firing line. The language spoken is chiefly British, but the different regiments have imported new and strange words. This is a typical conversation in a cafe:

"Where's Bill?" "Bill 'oo?" "The knocker in A company." "Oh! 'im-'He's in B company." "Go on!" "Yes, he's worked his ticket." (Very loud to the lady.) "Another cafe oie, ma, s'vous-plait." "Ah wee, ah wee" (this in answer to a lot of questions not understood). "Our cove got the wind up last night, not art?" "That's nothing new, he always does." "Yes, he reckoned he saw a lot of Germans, we was standing to arms all day and night." "Pan do burr, ma, please." "Ah wee, ah wee—Tabby an." ("Billey" means England (Hindustani, perhaps?) a "knocker" is a drummer. "Working your ticket" getting some illness or defect that gets you sent home to hospital; "Getting wind up," getting a panic; "Pan do burr," bread and butter (French); "Cafy oie," coffee and milk (French); "Tabby an," all right" (Spanish? from Gib. Esta bien?).

To-day we had a bath. This is how we do it. One company parades at 6 a. m., and we signaller with it; also the "Emmages" (machine guns) of this half battalion. We have to carry our rifles and ammunition. I took a bicycle, as I had to fly back to relieve a man at the telephone after the bath, and let him go for one. It is getting light at 6 a. m. now, and if the weather is fine it is rather jolly. We sing and whistle, and the Frenchwomen come out and look at us and laugh. We are a very draggled-looking lot now. The baths are big vats in a factory. We leave our arms and equipments in an old house and march into the factory, tear off our clothes as best we can, tie-up our coats and trousers with our identification disks and throw them to a man who passes them up to another place, where, I believe, they are baked. Then we scramble into the vats, 20 or more in a vat of hot water with paraffin in it. As soon as one lot is washed others scramble into the same water, and so on. About 50 can wash at a time. We get out, seize our boots and caps, and walk into another place, where we get clean shirts, socks, vests and drawers. Our dirty ones are at once boiled and get ready for other men. The vests and drawers are scrubby, and the shirts grey backs with large metal buttons. Our outer clothes are thrown-at us, and we dress and rush out to go to a house and buy coffee, and gradually all assemble outside and march back whistling. We get this about once in three weeks. This happens always during a three days' rest. It is really only a partial rest, as we have constant inspection of rifles, feet, clothes and ammunition. The inspections are very minute, and, of course, necessary, but very harassing. We live in stables, dingy and dirty, without light or fire, barring what candles we have, and sometimes a smoky brazier, when we can get fuel; but we have the cafe where we can buy bread and butter and coffee, and this club, run by our chaplain, Father Conran.

One hears funny conversations on shipboard. One man said: "I say, Bill, who is that homely woman on the other side of the deck?" "That's my wife," he replied. "Why, you're not looking." "I don't have to."

YOU SHOULD WORRY

If we are in trouble and give away the goods. The writing is on the wall. The CUT-PRICE CLOTHING STORE'S doom is sealed unless ready cash is realized at once. To-morrow and next week we are going to smash all cheap selling records. Stock has again been re-marked—this time, next to nothing. We are forced to do this as the CUT-PRICE CLOTHING STORE'S name hangs in the balance, and the hungry wolf style creditors are now showing their teeth and are ready to tear us to pieces. So you had better come in to-morrow or next week and get some of the good things here. CLOTHING, MEN'S FURNISHINGS AND HATS were never so cheap before. It's you or the sheriff, so come in and get yours while the pickings are good.

THISTLES READY FOR SHIELD FINAL

CAPT. ADAMS CONFIDENT OF WIN

Coquitlam Will Have Strong Team Lined Up To-morrow at the Royal Athletic Park. Double header billed.

"Decks cleared for action." This is the battle-cry of Capt. Jimmy Newlands, of the Thistles. There will be action and plenty of it when the Coquitlam eleven invade this city Saturday to make a strenuous effort to relieve the Scots of the McBride shield.

PUBLIC RECEPTION FOR JESS WILLARD

Jack Johnson Has Been Refused Passport; Duffy Outpoints Charlie White

New York, April 9.—A public welcome and demonstration in honor of Jess Willard has been arranged for the arrival of the new world's champion heavyweight pugilist here to-morrow. A reception committee of men prominent in the sporting world will meet him at the railroad station. United States District Attorney Marshall said today that if the films of the Willard-Johnson fight are brought to New York from Havana, they will be detained until a judicial ruling has been given on the question of admitting the film of the Ritchie-Welsh contest which were brought here from London recently. Collector of the Port Malone said he would exclude the films from entry.

Washington, April 9.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, will not be given an American passport when he leaves Cuba. The announcement to this effect was made today by Secretary Bryan, who has instructed the American minister at Havana to deny the negro's application. This, however, will not prevent Johnson going abroad, but it will retard his movements in Europe.

Havana, April 9.—A direct slap at resident Menocal is seen here today in the action last night of a Cuban senate committee in reporting favorably a bill to prohibit prize fighting in Cuba. President Menocal attended the recent Willard-Johnson bout here and later announced that he favored the ban of certain boxing promoters to stage a series of championship bouts in Havana.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 9.—Jimmy Duffy, Lockport, holds a newspaper declaration over Charlie White, of Chicago, as a result of their ten-round bout last night. The fight was fast and glib throughout. White opened the first round by flooring Duffy with a left hook, but Duffy evened up in the next round by sending White to the floor with a right swing to the jaw. Duffy was the master from the second round, and after that easily kept the lead.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 9.—Willie Ritchie, of San Francisco, former lightweight champion of the world, is scheduled to box six rounds here tonight with Johnny Griffiths, of Akron, Ohio. Next week Ritchie will fill a twelve-round engagement here.

FITZSIMMONS MARRIED.

Washington, April 9.—Bob Fitzsimmons, the former heavyweight champion, was married here last night to his Temo Zillen, who has been associated with him for some time in theatricals. The bride's gift from the bridegroom is said to have been $50,000 in jewels.

MORRIS BEATEN.

New York, April 9.—Jim Coffey, the Dublin Giant, administered a severe beating to Carl Morris, of Oklahoma, a ten-round bout here last night. Coffey forced the fighting nearly all the way and twice had Morris groggy the bell-sounded. Both are heavyweights.

PRESIDENT SUSPENDER
NONE SO EASY

Ward, but played ineffectual men. The Wards lodged a protest and the B. C. Soccer league ruled in their favor. Their splendid showing in the Jackson cup games has made the Thistles very popular among the soccer enthusiasts, and their clean sportsmanlike play has won them many friends. They play scientific football, and work smoothly, their attacks being all combined.

After a conference with the baseball officials, the Football association were given permission for the use of the baseball park following the baseball game. Tickets for this double header are now on sale, the ball game to start at 1:30, the soccer match following immediately after.

The Thistles' lineup: Goal, Shrimpton; backs, Newlands and Taylor; halves, Stronach, Adams and Park; forwards, Caskie, Muir, Philmore, Ingis and Whittaker.

SPORTING GOSSIP

Thistles ought to hold the McBride shield.

This trophy is now held by the Wards.

Raleigh twirled a high-class brand of baseball.

Kaylor's hitting was a pleasant surprise for the fans.

Jess Willard says that he will not meet any challengers for at least three months.

Tom Jones has lined up a fine vaudeville tour for his champion.

Shrimpton will be prominent in Saturday's soccer final.

The Thistle goalie has played fine soccer this season.

Roy Grover has shown himself to be a dandy little infielder.

The Twilight league recruit can hit the ball awful hard.

Another right-handed twirler is needed by the Victoria club.

New Westminster is still howling about a freeze-out in the pro lacrosse league.

They forgot that they started the game on the decline in this district.

Seattle is hoisting Beatty, the Toronto boy, as a first sacker.

Dugdale also thinks he has a find in young Barth, whom he has converted into an outfielder.

VICTORIA LACROSSE CLUB TO PRACTICE

A full turnout of the Victoria lacrosse club will be held at the Royal Athletic park on Sunday morning. It was announced this morning that the amateurs may come to some agreement with the professional club, whereby the two teams will practice together. The following are expected out on Sunday: Meddick, Sweeney, Springer, Styles, Clegg, J. Johnson, J. Baker, C. Baker, A. Weaver, Mitchell, Pettigrew, Coffey, Okell, B. Whyte, J. Dakers, A. McGregor, E. Taylor and others wishing to try for the team.

GAMES NOT TRANSFERRED.

Berlin, April 9.—The Olympic games of 1916 have not yet been transferred from Germany and the international committee has not the power to direct such action, according to a statement made by Count von Francken-Sierstorff, vice-chairman of the German Olympic committee. Whether the games will be held depends upon the course of the war, the count said, but if they are held, it will be in Berlin. The international committee is still at work and the German vice-chairman is in regular communication with Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the international committee.

'FRISCO FIELD OPEN.

San Francisco, April 9.—Dedication of the athletic stadium and cinder path at the Panama-Pacific Exposition was scheduled to take place this afternoon. Following the formal opening exercises the Pacific Coast inter-scholastic track and field meet championship contests were to be started. More than 200 athletes, representing thirty-seven high schools, were entered in the 22 events. Preliminary matches were to be held today. The finals of all events will be contested to-morrow.

BASEBALL MEETING.

A baseball meeting will be held this evening at the Empire Cigar Store, Douglas street at 8 o'clock. Charles Fuller will be in the chair. All baseball players are welcome.

A PRIVATE'S COMPLAINT.

"A private" in the Somerset Light Infantry, who is at present a prisoner in Germany, has sent two letters to his wife. In the first of these he says: "We do not get enough to eat here. All we have is a drop of coffee at 7 a.m. and a basin of soup at 12, and some 'skilly' at night. Sometimes we get a piece of cheese or a piece of sausage once a week, and about three-quarters of a pound of black, sour bread. We were treated like dogs when they took us prisoners from a church in France. They made us march from 4 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night, with nothing to eat and only water to drink. At night they took us into hospital and dressed our wounds and gave us a drink of coffee. The French women gave us some bread, but the Germans gave us nothing to eat for four days, and then they gave us a piece of some sausage and a drink of coffee."

"I was sent to a camp where we had to sleep in a field of sand, and with not much to eat. For two days I was sent into a hut they called a hospital. We were kicked and spat upon and struck with their rifles, and called 'English swine,' but we took it all, and the Germans soon saw we did not care. The doctors were like pigs to us, and we are lucky to be alive. We have been scolded like wild animals."

In a letter received at a later date the writer says: "We have only one blanket to keep us warm, and it has been freezing and snowing for a week. I had to buy a pair of boots out of the money you sent me, and a guernsey to keep me warm, as when I was wounded they took my boots from me and made me walk bare-footed, and kicked us into the goods shed at Mons station. But you must not worry about me, as I can stick all their games, and I am quite as hard as they are."

QUEENS NAMED MARY.

It is rather remarkable that of the queens named Mary in our history, her present majesty is the only one who has attained the age of forty-six while queen. Mary the First, queen regnant, died at forty-two. Mary the Second, queen regnant, with William the Third, died at thirty-two. Mary of Modena, though she lived to be sixty, passed into exile with Third's consort the distinction of a purely English education and upbringing.

TRANSPACIFIC TRAFFIC CONDITIONS DISCUSSED

Shipping Representatives Establish Ocean Proportion on Overland Rates

Seattle, April 9.—Attended by representatives from the majority of coast cities, the trans-Pacific conference, composed of steamship companies operating in the trans-Pacific route, discussed general traffic conditions at a meeting held here and established the ocean proportion on the rates of a few overland commodities not covered in the existing tariffs. The greater part of the meeting was given to a discussion of rules and regulations. There was no suggestion of any advance in ocean rates.

The representatives at the meeting included W. D. Benson, of Frank Watkinson & Co., Seattle, agents for the Royal Mail Steam Packet company; E. J. Manion, of Dodwell & Co., Seattle, agents for the Blue Funnel line; C. E. Daymude, of the Great Northern Steamship company, Seattle; F. M. Studley, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Seattle; E. H. Clendenning, of the Canadian Pacific company, Vancouver; B. C. F. Connor, traffic manager of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, San Francisco, who also acted as representative of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, operating between that port and the Orient.

The rates on overland traffic through the different coast gateways to the Orient are practically the same for each port. On the freight to and from the Orient, there is some difference in a few cases between the San Francisco rates and the rates from other coast ports.

In the overland trade between the coast and the Orient, the trans-Pacific conference encounters competition from the water lines operating through the Suez canal and the Panama canal. Several lines operate between New York and the Orient via the Suez. It is understood among the trans-Pacific companies that the Suez lines have decided to increase their rates 20 per cent, with the result that competition from now on will be less keen.

REMARKABLE PROFIT ON STEAM TONNAGE

San Francisco, April 9.—The Union Iron Works has announced that work will commence April 15 on two 10,000-ton modern cargo steamers. One of the vessels has been ordered by Hind, Ralph & Co., and the other, from the same plans will be constructed for the builders' account, to be sold on completion.

The steamer California, formerly the Pacific liner Algon, now trading between South America and New York, is under a charter which pays her $1,400 a day, or $42,000 a month. Taking out her running expenses she is clearing $30,000 a month. These figures show that steam tonnage is of some value at the present time.

UNION STEAMSHIP MATE IS CRUSHED TO DEATH

News was received to-day of the death, by accident yesterday of Jonson Arghar Gilchrist, mate of the Union Steamship Co.'s vessel Capilano. The deceased's mother and sister live in Victoria. He leaves a widow and two children in Vancouver. The remains will be brought to Victoria to-morrow for burial.

Details of the accident which caused Gilchrist's death are meagre, but it is known that he was fatally crushed when caught in the steel cable wound on a winch of the vessel at Powell River. By request of relatives, there will be no inquest. Gilchrist was 24 years old.

Awa Maru Taking Out Distinguished Passengers and Full Cargo

Large detachments of Russian reservists, who have been called to the colors, are leaving Victoria, Seattle and Vancouver for Vladivostok, Siberia, on vessels plying in the trans-Pacific trade, and it is estimated that several thousand men have embarked at North Pacific ports in the past three months.

When the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Awa Maru sails from the outer docks this afternoon she will have on board a party of fifty Russians, who expect to join the Czar's army on the battlefield. Twelve of these will embark here, the reservists will leave the Awa at Yokohama, go by oriental steamer to Vladivostok, and travel to interior Russia on the Trans-Siberian railroad.

The Awa will be an absolutely full ship on this trip. She is taking 6,000

APPREHENSION FELT REGARDING LUCERIC

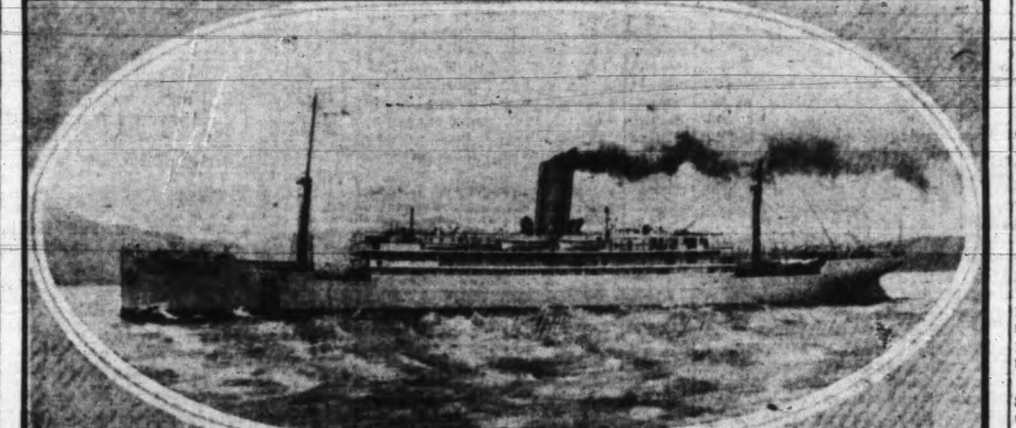

Weir Liner From Sound Should Have Reached London Some Days Ago

Some apprehension is felt in shipping circles regarding the safety of the Weir liner Luceric, formerly in the Victoria trade, which is making an exceptionally long passage from Newport News to London. The liner is from the Sound, via Panama, and left Newport News on March 22. She should have arrived at London four or five days ago. The belief has been expressed that she is taking extra precautions in view of the submarine danger.

When the Luceric left Sound ports Captain D. Davies was inclined to treat the submarine menace as a joke, although his ship carried a cargo valued at half a million dollars. At Newport News he suggested that all aboard begin taking several cold baths every day so that in the event of an attack by a submarine they would have no dread of the chilly water. Members of the crew were light-hearted. In a letter written to friends here just before he sailed from Newport News Captain Davies told of the submarine menace and of his cold bath idea. He said he was going on the theory that if a submarine was going to "get" him it would turn the trick whether he worried or not. He intended, of course, to do his best in the matter of keeping the Luceric submarines at a safe distance, but in the meantime was not borrowing trouble.

The Luceric left the Sound on February 18 with 7,000 tons of oats and 2,000 tons of wheat. She passed through the canal the second week in March, being held up six days in the big ditch by a slide in the Culobra cut. After an uneventful run she reached Newport News on March 21, and sailed for Great Britain the next day after

MOVING TALES OF HEROISM OF COMMANDER AND CREW

The tragic sadness of the loss of H. M. auxiliary cruiser Bayano, which was torpedoed off the Wighton coast, and went down with a loss of 200 lives, is relieved by moving tales of the heroism of the commander and crew. The vessel encountered a German submarine near Crosswell Point, off the Scottish coast, at 5 a. m. on March 11. She remained afloat just three minutes after being struck by the torpedo. In those dread swift minutes there was no panic. The captain (Commander Henry Cecil Carr), passing to the bridge, saw a young sailor handing out lifebelts to comrades, and paused to pat him approvingly on the back. "Good lad! Good lad!" he murmured, and added, "Save yourself!" But there was no thought of saving himself. Nobody left the ship till the vessel gave the last plunge, going down by the bow, and the few survivors were picked up on two rafts and an upturned boat.

The full crew was 220. One seaman said he was dragged down by the suction of the vessel, but rose by swimming to the surface. He had no lifebelt, but, luckily, a plank of wood came within his reach, and he clung to it desperately. Another man caught hold of the same plank, and they stayed together for a little time, but the support was not sufficient for both.

He handed over the plank to his companion, while he made for a more substantial piece of wreckage, intending to bring it back, so as to support his companion. However, for some reason which he did not know, but which he presumed to be the desire for fellowship, the man was induced to try to follow him, but he went down almost within his grasp. He never saw him again.

E. C. Ward Becomes Vice-President of Pacific Coast Steamship Line.

Seattle, April 9.—Announcement of the appointment of Edward C. Ward as vice-president of the Pacific Coast Steamship company was made at the monthly luncheon of heads of departments of the Pacific Coast company held at the Hotel Butler. SUBJECT TO REGULATIONS.

San Francisco, April 9.—All ships arriving at Pacific coast ports after passing through the Panama canal will be subjected to the usual customs regulations, according to a ruling published yesterday by Collector of the Port J. O. Davis. The ruling, made by the Washington authorities, is effective immediately. It is promulgated because vessels coming through the Panama canal pass foreign ports and therefore may carry dutiable goods or foreign passengers.

PROTESILAUS WILL SHIFT TO SEATTLE

Discharging Almost Completed; May Be No Arrivals Until Sunday

It is expected that the Blue Funnel freighter Proteus, Captain Braithwaite, will have finished discharging her coal and oil in time to be shifted to Seattle to-morrow.

After coming out of drydock at Seattle, she will take a big shipment of wheat on Puget Sound for the United Kingdom. Bookings for the vessel are not completed and the amount of this shipment has not been determined.

H. B. Davenport, agent for the vessel, received word to-day that the British freighter Epsom sailed from San Francisco at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and is coming direct to Victoria. She is due at this port on Wednesday next.

Although there are three trans-Pacific liners approaching this port, all within a day or so of being fully due, it seems possible now that none of them will arrive before Sunday. Doubt has been expressed that the Canadian-Australasian vessel Niagara, which is expected to arrive at 3 p. m., and seven days is the average time taken by her between that port and Victoria. She is not expected until the afternoon of Saturday at the earliest. She is bringing almost 300 passengers and will discharge about 7,000 tons of freight at B. C. and Sound ports. Her cargo consists chiefly of frozen meats, butter, wool, and other products of New Zealand and Australia.

The Mexico Maru, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha line, due at 4 o'clock early on Sunday morning. No word of the Tokai Maru has been received.

The Blue Funnel liner Titan is posted to clear from this port for the Orient on Sunday.

STEAMSHIP BOVERIC ON WAY TO COMOX

Crown of Castile Was Scheduled to Make Trip to Victoria

The British steamship Boveric, Captain Harper, owned by Andrew Weir & Company, of Glasgow, called at Victoria this morning early to pick up a pilot. She is on her way from San Francisco to Comox for bunker coal. The Boveric came in ballast and will load on the Columbia river for the United Kingdom.

Word has just been received by Harrison Direct line, that the Crown of Castile, which was recently sunk by a German submarine, was scheduled to sail for Victoria this summer with part of the shipment of piping for the Saanich municipality.

Altogether 4,000 tons of this piping will be delivered by Balfour Guthrie over the Harrison Direct line. The first shipment will come on the Student, which is now on berth at Liverpool and is due to leave in about a week's time. Three or four other shipments will be made at monthly intervals. The Candidate will follow the Student and the Crown of Castile was slated for the June sailing. It has not been announced what ship will replace her.

"JITNEY" PROBLEM ON SEA

Situation Said to Amount to Penalizing Owners for Maintaining Regular Schedules.

A "jitney" problem has invaded the sea since the U. S. state railroad commission has been given jurisdiction over regular steamship lines operating between California ports. The difficulty has arisen out of the fact that the public utilities act gives the railroad commission control over regular lines of vessels operating on regular schedules. The occasional tramp ship does not have to publish rates, can alter tariffs at a moment's notice, and, generally speaking, can do just about as she pleases with reference

HOLLY ROTARY EMBLEM

Golden Wheel of California is Coming; Will Be Here at Rotary Vaudeville Show.

Holly grown in Victoria will be the emblem of the Rotary men of the Victoria Rotary club who go to San Francisco to the Rotary convention in July. This was decided upon yesterday at the Rotary lunch after several suggestions had been made on the subject. It is intended by the Rotarians to take thousands of holly sprigs with them to distribute during their stay in San Francisco. Holly will be worn by the Victoria delegates in the convention meetings.

Captain Goodlake, secretary of the Victoria Rotary club, has received a letter containing the information that the golden wheel of Rotary is on the way to Victoria, and will be here about the time the Rotarian vaudeville show comes from California, and has been making a world tour. It is an immense golden wheel with seven other wheels. The large one represents California, and the seven smaller ones the seven Rotary clubs of the Golden state. Rehearsals by Rotarians who are to

BRIGADIER INSPECTS THE MOUNTED RIFLES

Lt.-Col. Sissons Conducts Both Regimental and Dis-mounted Inspections

This afternoon Lieut.-Col. Sissons, brigadier of the First Brigade, Canadian Mounted Rifles, who arrived in the city yesterday with his A. D. C., Captain F. F. Montague, is making an inspection of the Second Canadian Mounted Rifles at the Willow camp.

The inspection will last for about two hours, first regimentally, and then individually by squadrons. While a large proportion of the men are mounted now, it was not found possible to have the whole regiment on horseback.

This morning the visiting colonel held a dismounting inspection at the camp, the men presenting a fine appearance which had been improved by the long experience since the regiment was organized. First they formed en masse, then marched by in sections, in column of troops, lastly forming up in mass prior to dismissal.

The order of the parade was B squadron, Major Allen, C squadron, Major Barty, and A squadron, Major Barford. The machine gun section under Lieut. Worsley followed, preceded by the base section under Lieut. Henicker.

The regimental parade was led by Lieut.-Col. Bott and Major Mutrie, adjutant. Subsequently the visiting brigadier made an inspection of the standards and equipment of the various squadrons.

Lieut.-Col. Sissons, whose headquarters are at Medicine Hat, is a fine example of the officers in charge of the mounted rifle sections in Western Canada. He will only make a brief stay in Victoria, leaving on the evening boat for Vancouver on route to Edmonton, where an inspection of the squadron in training there will be made.

OBITUARY RECORD

A. E. Starr, of the provincial government staff, has received word of the death of his father, Gordon A. Starr, to-day at Brockville, Ont., aged 80. The deceased was born in Brockville, where the family has resided for close upon a century. He was a pioneer manufacturer in that city, and upon retiring from business he entered the service of the C. P. R. and had charge of their freight business in Ottawa and Brockville for many years, also serving for a couple of years as paymaster during the construction of the Lake Superior section of the line. He numbered among his personal friends many of the present heads of the C. P. R. system, and was one of the best known railway men in Eastern Ontario. Mr. Starr had also a considerable acquaintance in this city, having made several visits to Victoria the last one—about twelve years ago—being of about two years' duration.

The funeral of the late Rev. W. T. Currie, D. D., took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the B. C. funeral parlors, under the auspices of the British Legion No. 72, Masonic order, of which the deceased was a member. Worshipful Brother R. H. Woodley conducted the services at the funeral parlors, and Rev. J. K. Unsworth, of Vancouver, officiated at the Congregational church. The remains were forwarded to Toronto for interment. The pallbearers were: Brother William Warner, Worshipful Brother E. C. Hayward, Brother J. W. Stephens, Brother J. A. Grant, Brother A. F. Ashwell and Brother A. A. Belbeck.

Mrs. J. D. McNiven and her daughter have been visiting Mrs. McNiven's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Butler, 465 Kingston street.

ADMIRAL THINKS WAR WILL END THIS YEAR

Baron Sotokichi Uriu Gives Interesting Interview; Is Re-ticent on Conflict

Admiral Baron Sotokichi Uriu, of Russo-Japanese war fame, believes the present war will be over before the end of the year. He also believes that the right will prevail, backed up, as it is, by the almost limitless resources of the allies.

The admiral is in Victoria to-day awaiting the departure of the N. Y. K. vessel 'Awa Maru' on voyage to Japan. The 'Awa' will go out at 5 o'clock. It is expected, and with it will go one of the most distinguished visitors Victoria has entertained for some time.

A hard man to interview is the admiral, although not at all difficult to approach. He has the soul of an aesthete beneath a martial exterior, and loves nothing better than to talk of the beautiful things of creation, the sunshine and flowers. Not for the world would he allow the subject of war to intrude its grim form into the picture could he help it. He has become very diplomatic since his retirement from active service last year, and his subsequent appointment as commissioner for Japan to the San Francisco exposition.

After some negotiation the interviewer was shown to the admiral's suite in the Empress hotel this morning. The door opened, disclosing the little war god of the Japanese, and beside him Commander S. Nagano, his aide, and M. Kishi, his secretary. The baron bowed. Commander S. Nagano bowed. M. Kishi bowed.

In the room were several prominent local Japanese merchants, with smiles upon their faces. For the baron is an international personage. His record in the Russo-Japanese war brought him fame second only to that of his illustrious commander, Admiral Togo.

No Samurai make-up adorned the form of the admiral. He smoked a Pall Mall cigarette. A frock coat made him look even smaller of stature than he is. Only the red and white rosette of the Order of the Rising Sun glewed in his buttonhole to hint at the admiral's achievements.

"Now," said the baron, "I talk with the mouth." And he laughed. The San Francisco exposition was beautiful, he said, especially the Canadian exhibit, in which he had found huge delight. California was beautiful, and Victoria was one of the most gorgeously beautiful cities he had ever visited. The admiral then entered upon an enthusiastic description of all the places he had visited since leaving Japan. All these places were beautiful, too.

The baron paused to light another cigarette. It was the interviewer's chance.

"When the war broke out didn't your government call you back to the navy?" Putting it at the baron point-blank like that left him no escape without a hint of discourtesy. The baron allowed himself to remember that there was a war—a thing which was not nice.

"Ah, me," said he, smiling, "I am an old man. They would not want me now. There are many young men. We old fellows step aside and give them a chance."

When did he think the war would end? He hardly heeded him to discuss the death of his father, Gordon A. Starr, to-day at Brockville, Ont., aged 80. The deceased was born in Brockville, where the family has resided for close upon a century. He was a pioneer manufacturer in that city, and upon retiring from business he entered the service of the C. P. R. and had charge of their freight business in Ottawa and Brockville for many years, also serving for a couple of years as paymaster during the construction of the Lake Superior section of the line. He numbered among his personal friends many of the present heads of the C. P. R. system, and was one of the best known railway men in Eastern Ontario. Mr. Starr had also a considerable acquaintance in this city, having made several visits to Victoria the last one—about twelve years ago—being of about two years' duration.

The baron shut up like a clam when questioned on the threat of trouble between Japan and China, consequent upon the former's demands for certain concessions. He would say nothing except that Japan was acting for the best and looking to her own advantage only through legitimate means.

"What about the battle you had with the Russians?"

The baron looked at the carpet. You could almost have said that a flush of modesty tinged his saffron cheeks, which are still as black as 48 years. He murmured that it really didn't amount to anything.

"Since the baron is so modest," said his aide, "I suppose I will have to tell you. The baron was commanding a squadron of the fleet under Admiral Togo. He was dispatched to meet certain Russian vessels. They came together at Chemulpo, Korea. He had orders to sing the cruiser Varag and the gunboat Korietz, and he did it."

"You took somewhat of a fall out of the Russian elephant," was suggested. "Ah, yes," the baron couldn't prevent satisfaction from creeping into his voice. "That was years ago. Now we and they are friends. We are sending them guns and helping them. Is it not funny?"

ESTABLISH QUOT CLUB

Victoria Unemployment Will Have Means to Pass Time Between Intervals of Seeking Work.

The unemployed are resourceful, and since the superintendent of the Central Employment bureau has set this pace for a general spring cleaning by putting some men to work on the W. C. T. U. property adjoining the bureau on Pandora avenue and Cormorant street, the men who hang round waiting like Mr. Micawber for something to turn up have established a quot club on the lot. The object is to keep the Pandora avenue sidewalk clear, complaint in this regard having been made.

The bureau has also sent men to work at the Herb industrial home, the PROTESTANT ORPHAN HOME, AND THE BOYS' DETENTION HOME. THE SUPERINTENDENT SAYS: "IF THIS EXAMPLE IS WORTH ANYTHING, AND THE CONTINUED GOOD NAME OF VICTORIA IS TO REMAIN AS A CITY HEALTHFUL AND BEAUTIFUL, WILL GET THESE WHO HAVE MADE THEMSELVES OR SURROUNDINGS NEEDING SANITARY ATTENTION SEND IN THEIR WANTS TO THE CENTRAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU WHERE MEN ACCUSTOMED TO SUCH WORK ARE ALWAYS ON HAND? TELEPHONE 1637."

"Our records show that all men and women who have regularly applied at the bureau for work, have been put to work. Those who have not been put to work are those who do not apply for work, or those who are only willing to do certain specific work for which this bureau has not had any requisition. The number registered to date is 1827."

SAY OFFICES SHOULD BE ON MAIN STREET

Tourists Comment on Undesirable Location of Development Association

Complaints are being freely lodged against the undesirable location of the offices of the Victoria and Island Development association. A number of tourists who have reached this city during the past few days have commented upon the out-of-the-way place in which the association has established its headquarters. In the past many local people have pointed out this fault and argue that the offices should be on a main thoroughfare, so that visitors can locate them without any difficulty.

At the present time the association has its offices in the board of trade building on Bastion street. Very few people use this street, and visitors seldom if ever wander over its pavement. The desire on the part of many citizens is to have the offices on Government street, so that people coming off the boats and strolling about town may find the place without difficulty.

It would then be possible to have windows for exhibiting literature and products from Victoria's industries and the adjacent farms. While the offices are at present it is impossible for the officials to arrange a window display. The unsuitable location of the offices was brought home very forcibly on "Post Card Day." Some people did not know where the offices were, and it is believed that if they had been on a busier thoroughfare far more pamphlets would have been distributed than really were.

It is expected that the executive committee will take up the matter at its next meeting.

MARKET STRENGTHENED BY MILLERS' REPORT

Winnipeg, April 9.—Wheat opened 1/2 to 1/4 lower, oats 1/4 higher for both months, and flax unchanged to 1/4 higher. Following the opening there was a fair advance in prices of wheat futures and light trading. The cash demand was poor, while there was a fair amount of offerings of both wheat and oats. There was no new business on export and bids are said to be about three cents out of line.

The total inspections yesterday were 417 cars as against 402 cars last year, and in eight to date were 300 cars.

Wheat futures closed 1c to 1 1/2 higher; cash closed 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher; oats closed 1/2 higher; and flax closed 1/2 to 1 higher.

The strength of the local market was attributed to the Modern Miller's report stating rains needed.

SLEPT WITH CORPSES

Vancouver Boy at Front Writes to Uncle Henry: Is Doing Medical Work.

Rev. A. del. Owen, pastor of the Reformed Episcopal church, has received a lengthy letter from his nephew, H. H. Owens, who left Vancouver with the first contingent, which gives vivid details of the trip from Salisbury Plain to the firing line.

The troops disembarked from the trains at Hazebrouck, where hospital trains were seen passing with their loads of wounded. The battalions started out on their march towards the firing line in wagon formation. After progressing two miles the hall, snow and sleet were met, and another two miles brought them to Caestre. Twenty-eight men were told off to sleep in a room 18 feet by 14 feet. Owens, however, could not stand the confinement and went out in search of more sleeping quarters. He found a mortuary in which were three coffins, and despite the unpleasant surroundings enjoyed a good night's rest. The following day sick soldiers began to arrive in the town and the place was full of troops. The little hospital began to fill up so quickly that Owens was given orders to report to the engineers, and upon joining the corp he found many of the Vancouver boys from whom he had been separated for six months.

"I simply must have that cheque to-day," said the harassed creditor firmly. "What time will your cashier be back?" "Oh, it's no use your waiting, sir," said the new office boy, brightly. "He won't be back till after you're gone."

INDEPENDENTS MAY RUN IN THIS CITY

Several Names Mentioned as Likely to Oppose McBride's Ticket; Political Notes

There is every likelihood of one or two independent Conservatives contesting the Victoria seats in the forthcoming election. Some time ago a certain faction of the McBride followers in this city was unable to see eye to eye with the premier, and they broke away and formed the Imperial Conservative association. The new organization has shown considerable activity, and now that the election is drawing near it is reported that they propose to show their disaffection for the administration across the Bay in a more open way by opposing the candidates of the Conservative ticket.

Leonard Tait, who is a leading figure in the Imperial association, is mentioned as one of the men who will likely be placed before the electors by the independents. When questioned as to his candidature, Mr. Tait said that it was rather early to say anything as yet, and he would wait until something more definite was given out about the election.

Other prominent residents of the city are said to be contemplating letting their names go before a committee. But it is doubtful whether the association will place more than two men in the field if they decide to contest the seats here.

The Independents throughout the province are causing the attorney-general no end of worry. At a meeting in Vancouver he said he would attack them with the bayonet, but the fire of machine guns and artillery of the independents has been too much for him. Bowser to keep his head well below the top of his trenches, and his dash has been postponed indefinitely.

In Vancouver the independents are fighting tooth and nail, and such splendid men are being put up that the vote of the Conservative party will be split. In the interior towns also the independents are spoiling the chances of the McBride candidates.

To-night the Liberal delegates to the Sancho convention will meet in the Douglas Street Baptist church, when a candidate will be nominated to fight the election in that riding. A full attendance of delegates is expected.

Commenting on Sir Richard's visit to England the Cowichan Leader (Conservative) speaks in part as follows: "We are told that the premier's mission is to raise the means to finance not only railway schemes now halted, but agricultural development for which legislation has at long length been placed on the statute book."

"Granted that this explanation be correct, then, should Sir Richard be successful, it is possible that he may yet retrieve the position of the government. But we fear, more for the interests of agriculture than the fate of the premier or his party, that nothing short of a miracle will loosen British capital for the convenience of a country which has so long neglected the development of its basic industry and which bears today a none too enviable reputation in financial circles."

"Sooner or later we must face the cold hard truth that we have gambled away many of our chances and that we must look to our own initiative and labor for our immediate development."

speech made by the Liberal candidate, J. W. Weart, who gave an outline of his platform, which dealt largely with the interests of the workman of whom he claimed that he was one and whom he is peculiarly fitted to represent at Victoria. Mr. Weart was given a rousing reception by the audience, which was largely composed of workmen with a sprinkling of ladies.

VESTRY MEETING HELD.

Christ Church Parish Experiences Many Changes Among Clergy During Year Just Closed.

The Bishop of Columbia, as acting rector of Christ Church Cathedral parish, presided at the annual vestry meeting held on Tuesday evening, and in the course of a comprehensive statement referred to the numerous changes which had taken place in the clerical staff of the church.

Rev. W. Barton had gone with the first contingent to England, and had been appointed chaplain to the Canadian Forces at the front; Dean Doull had been consecrated as Bishop of Kootenay and had left Victoria to take over his new duties; Dean Schofield, of Fredericton, N. B., had been appointed rector of Christ church, and would arrive on May 19 to be installed at once into his new office. Bishop Roper had been elected Bishop of the Ottawa diocese, and would leave here on May 20.

The reports for the year were submitted, that of the treasurer, F. B. Warren, showing that despite the unusual circumstances during the past eight months the income of the church had suffered very little. Over one-third of the gross income of $15,391 had been paid over to various missionary and charitable funds outside the parish. The endowment income of about $2,800 per year was insufficient for the payment of the taxes on the property, and an additional $1,000 per annum must be raised for the next ten years to meet the heavy local improvement taxes.

The following officers were elected: Church Warden: Messrs. F. B. Warren and John Harvey.

Church Committee: Messrs. Thos. Elkington, G. W. Anthony, R. Ross Sutherland, F. W. Jones, E. C. B. Bagshawe, A. E. Allen, E. E. Heath, J. T. Townsend, T. R. Ekham, and H. E. Reasley.

Sidesmen: Messrs. G. G. Fraser, G. E. Greene, J. G. Woodson, G. J. Harvey, A. E. Allen, W. E. H. Godson, A. N. Godson, J. S. W. Clowes, W. Miles, J. Fullam, and E. Greenwood.

Synod Representatives: John Harvey, E. C. B. Bagshawe, Thos. Elkington, A. J. Dallain, F. W. Jones, H. S. Crotty.

Rural Decanal Conference: Thos. Elkington, E. E. Heath, J. F. Armstrong.

Auditors: N. F. Ferris, H. O. Litchfield.

UNEMPLOYED RELIEF.

Foreigners May Be Deported; Vancouver Deputation Asks for Government Assistance.

Intimation has been received by the attorney-general, Hon. W. J. Bowser, from the Dominion government to the effect that where possible unemployed foreigners in British Columbia cities will be deported. This was in reply to a communication from the attorney-general asking that the Dominion government take some steps to relieve the distress in the cities.

A deputation, headed by Mayor Taylor, waited on Mr. Bowser yesterday asking that something be done by the government to relieve the distress in Vancouver, where 1,600 men have been taken care of at a cost of 37½ cents per day for some time. About $65,000 has been spent in Vancouver in this connection, and Mayor Taylor said they were now at the end of their resources, and asked the attorney-general to devise some further means of relief at once.

There was a grant recently made of $5,000 for the relief of the unemployed at Vancouver. This may have to be added to,
